Smudge Pots Burning.
A More Cheerful Country.
To Bar Filipinos.
Worry Is Necessary.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.

COMING HERE on Paul Shoup's Southern Pacific through Phoenix, Yuma, and on northward along the Pacific, you observe thick clouds of smoke that elsewhere would mean dangerous fire.

Through the smoke at regular intervals you see long rows of flame. They come from the smudge pots with which orange growers fight frost and counteract its effects.

All groves are warned by telephone and radio of approaching cold, and with the scientific management, thanks to cooperation, a temperature that would once have meant destruction to the crops means only the cost of burning a little low grade oil.

THIS WESTERN land, like every other part of the country, has its share of the depression, but eastern visitors observe in Los Angeles' crowded streets more cheerfulness than in New York or Chicago.

Perhaps "depression" is more easily borne in brilliant sunlight than in cloudy cold.

Also, this section of the country, with Boulder Dam under way, and government work six months ahead of schedule on the $165,000,000 job, has its greatest problem, WATER SUPPLY, permanently solved.

LOS ANGELES, and 12 other cities in this Boulder Dam district, recently voted, five to one, with admirable courage and foresight, a bond issue of $220,000,000 to build an aqueduct to bring the water to the thirsty land and its enormous quickly-growing population.

THE GOVERNMENT hesitated and delayed about spending $165,000,000. Los Angeles and 12 sister cities promptly voted $55,000,000 more than the total government investment, to take care of the water.

DAM AND AQUEDUCT will be ready in six years, and the next step will be the spending of $25,000,000 by the Imperial Valley.

That bond issue will build a canal adequate in size and make the valley independent of a canal now in use that runs through Mexico, at the mercy of revolution or international difficulties.

GEORGE YOUNG, publisher of the Los Angeles Examiner, which prints this column, would like you and business men generally to know that the circulation of the Sunday Examiner is 485,000, about double that of his nearest and only Sunday competitor.

There is, as Mr. Sol Wertheim says:

"No substitute for circulation, not even schmuss."

A CARTOON published today on the front page of Mr. Harry Chandler's Los Angeles Times ought to be republished in every newspaper in the country. It shows a gigantic Chinese on his hands and knees, chin on the ground. A Japanese soldier one-tenth the size of the Chinese giant, stands, gun and bayonet in hand, with one foot on the Chinese neck.

Above the cartoon, which Mr. Chandler should send to every member of Congress, is written:

"IS THIS AN ARGUMENT FOR OR AGAINST PREPAREDNESS?"

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE of California, starting for Washington, where his colleague, Senator Hiram Johnson, is already mixing anti-administration political medicine, says that he, Shortridge, will urge Congress to restrict Filipino emigration.

Since it is the policy of this country to accede to the demand that Asiatic competition be kept out, Senator Shortridge does not see why an exception should be made in favor of Filipinos, merely because Uncle Sam rescued them from Spain and spent many millions giving them public schools and good roads.

AMERICAN SUGAR growers think they should be protected from free competition of labor in the Philippines, represented by admission of Filipino sugar to this country tax free of tariff.

Senator Shortridge intends also to oppose the suggestion that Japanese immigration be permitted upon a "quota basis."

MANY MANUFACTURERS, interested in the certainty of cheap power, plan additions to the long list of industries already established on this coast.

One of the most fully developed here is the automobile tire industry. Firestone, Goodrich, Goodyear and United States Tires, all have factories and all are busy. With its thousands of miles of good roads, the Pacific Coast adds to its own high percentage of automobiles hundreds of thousands of cars from all over the United States, and tires are in demand.

THIS REGION, like others, fond of sayings short and wise, reads this one in big type today:

"The secret of happiness flies in letting the other fellow do the worrying."

The secret of HAPPINESS, perhaps, but not the secret of SUCCESS. He who lets the other fellow do the worrying usually works later for the other fellow that worries. Whoever believes that success can be

COURT PLEA ON JURY BAN PUT UP TO SOLICITOR

McGovern Favors Substitute Proceedings for Property, Shunning of Litigation

Proceedings to acquire the Wabash Bridge and tunnel as a traffic outlet will be started all over again, if necessary, County Commissioners E. V. Babcock and C. C. McGovern agreed today.

The two Commissioners authorized County Solicitor M. B. Lesher to take steps as he might deem proper in appealing the grand jury's action in throwing out the project.

The grand jury, after first approving the purchase, held a rehearing and ruled that because the Commissioners had failed to submit the project to the County Planning Commission as required by law, the proposal was null.

The Commissioners have until Friday to appeal to the court from the grand jury's action, McGovern said.

"I believe this whole thing should be started anew. If we become involved in litigation now, it may lead to endless litigation."

H. W. Nethkin, vice president of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway, formerly the Wabash, informed the Commissioners that many of the larger tenants of the company had moved because of the proposed taking over of the company's property by the county. No changes can be made toward rehabilitation, especially with respect to the proposed terminal in West Liberty, expected to cost $1,000,000, until the purchase is definitely settled.

BABCOCK HEADS COUNTY BOARD

Those traditional enemies on the Board of County Commissioners—E. V. Babcock and Charles C. "Buck" McGovern—made their peace today as Babcock was elected chairman of the board to fill the post made vacant by the death of Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong.

The Commissioners met today for the first time since Armstrong's death. McGovern said:

"I believe, in keeping with the business of the Board of County Commissioners, we should have a chairman, a successor to the late Joseph G. Armstrong. Therefore, I move the nomination of Edward V. Babcock and ask him to second the motion."

Before seconding McGovern's suggestion, Babcock said:

"This is a complete surprise and I think it a very gracious act on the part of Mr. McGovern. I accept, realizing that I have only about one month to serve, but with a profound appreciation of the honor."

The first business under Babcock's guidance was passage of a resolution of sympathy on the death of the former chairman.

Judge Egan, Umpire for Army-Navy Game

Tom Thorpe, of Columbia, will referee. Judge Egan gave up his officiating duties this year after being appointed to the bench except for the Yale-Harvard game last week.

MRS. JOSEPH G. ARMSTRONG

Court Has Power to Fill Office for Unexpired Term

By MARK SHIELDS

If the judges of Common Pleas Court fill the vacancy existing in the Board of County Commissioners there is ample precedent, though not in Allegheny County, for the appointment of Mrs. Joseph G. Armstrong, widow of the late Commissioner and veteran political leader.

Upon several occasions widows of members of Congress have succeeded their husbands, and only recently the Governor of Arkansas appointed the widow of Senator Thaddeus Caraway to his place in the upper branch of Congress.

The term which Mrs. Armstrong would fill has only five weeks remaining. Though Commissioners E. V. Babcock and Charles C. McGovern feel that there is little remaining business to be transacted by the present board, an occasion

Poor Officials Eat Beans, Inmates to Get Chicken

Borough officials from the south side of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers met at the County Poor Home today to discuss ways and means of carrying on the Poor Director's projected $750,000 "outside" relief program.

They ate ham and beans.

Officials of the North Boroughs will be there tomorrow for the same purpose.

They will eat ham and beans.

Thursday, the residents of the home will have their Thanksgiving dinner.

It will be chicken, with cranberry sauce and all the other trimmings.

Dr. W. L. Henderson, a board member, told the borough officials today that the Poor Directors are caring for 13,000 needy families throughout the county, spending $92,000 in the task last month.

Sectional luncheon meetings of borough and township officials have been going on in the home since Thursday.

The delegates are asked to aid in suggesting plans for financing the "outside" relief, which Dr. Henderson estimated will cost $750,000 for 1931, a figure far in excess of the county funds allotted for it.

RAIN AND SNOW FORECAST FOR TOMORROW

Bright, Crisp Thanksgiving Day Promised; Mercury To Be Near 40 Tonight

Snow flurries, with a drop in temperature to near freezing, is expected to pave the way for a clear, crisp Thanksgiving, Forecaster W. S. Brotzman announced today. Rain is expected tonight, changing to snow flurries tomorrow, with a drop to near freezing tomorrow night.

This drop in temperature is expected to break the run of high record temperatures this month.

Today the mercury mounted to 67, four degrees above the high mark for November 24, established four years ago. Tonight the mercury should descend to near 40, the forecaster said.

A cold wave which originated in the Southwest several days ago passed up the Mississippi Valley and gave Pittsburgh a wide berth. It is now moving eastward north of the Great Lakes.

Cold Wave Sweeping Eastward on Wide Front

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The West's cold wave broke loose on a wide front to creep eastward today into territory which has enjoyed record-breaking warmth for this late in the year.

Persons in the Great Lakes region were due for a rude jolt tonight, the Weather Bureau predicted, and the cold was edging into the Southern Mississippi Valley states.

The sun broke through in the Rocky Mountain states, which had been blizzard-swept since Saturday. A heavy blanket of snow lay on the ground.

Blizzard conditions centered in Minnesota and the storm was drifting northeast in the upper lakes region. Another storm which brought sleet and freezing weather to the Texas Panhandle was moving east on a southern route.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—While a cold spell lurked in the weatherman's bag of tricks, ready to pop out soon, people in most sections east of the Mississippi enjoyed today what may be the last generally mild day of the year.

Late spring temperatures in New York were marred by a fog. Philadelphia was foggy, but fairly warm, while Cleveland, basking in 68, expected freezing weather tomorrow. Detroit believed snow flurries might arrive.

Dancer Seeks Son Taken by Husband

Her husband took their 2-year-old son, Albert, Jr., to see the department store Santa Clauses last Saturday and failed to return, Mrs. Fay Weber, dancer, of 212 West Parkway, North Side, told Missing Persons Bureau attaches today as she sought their aid in locating the child.

Her husband, Albert Weber, 40, is the owner of "Al Weber's College Capers Revue," which has been playing in nearby towns. The Webers are separated.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(INS.)—Abolition of the English "pub"—the old-fashioned saloon—and the substitution of cafes selling both food and liquor will be recommended early next year by a government licensing commission, the Daily Herald said today.

PLANE KILLS 3 ON DARK FIELD AT LATROBE

Friends Waiting to Greet Flier Slashed by Blades Of Propeller at Airport

By WALTON WOODS
Staff Correspondent.

LATROBE, Pa., Nov. 24.—Two men were killed and another was fatally hurt early today when they were caught in the whirring propeller of an airplane while the craft was making a moonlight landing at the Latrobe Airport, two miles from Latrobe.

The dead are Robert Pescatore, 24, of Spring street, Latrobe; Philip Duffy, 23, of Lawson Heights, near Latrobe, and Allen Feather, 21, who suffered a fractured skull and died in the Latrobe Hospital shortly before noon.

TWO IN PLANE UNHURT

The pilot of the plane was 19-year-old Lou Strickler, son of a Latrobe druggist and companion of the youths his plane killed.

Strickler, a licensed pilot, was making the flight to obtain the night flying experience he needed for qualifying as a mail pilot.

Neither Strickler nor his passenger, Joseph Roddy, of Latrobe, was injured and the plane was undamaged. Strickler, although he said he believed his plane had struck something, was unaware of the accident until he alighted from his craft.

FIELD IN DARKNESS

With the exception of the dim moonlight, the field was in darkness. Strickler, in a fast descent, brought his plane unknowingly into the midst of the little group awaiting him.

Ambulances were called from undertakers and the Latrobe Hospital. Crowds, following them, milled about the field.

Pescatore and Duffy were beyond medical aid.

Grieving deeply, Strickler visited Duffy's mother early today. He vowed he would never step into the cockpit of a plane again.

SUSPECT TORIO IN CAFE KILLING

Joseph Torio, sought for weeks by Pittsburgh police and county detectives as an accomplice in the killing of Jack Palmere and Sam (Toto) Amarosa, bootleg supply racketeers, here on October 7, is believed to be one of the gang of gunmen who early yesterday raided a Maryland roadhouse near Washington, killing one and wounding four others.

City and county detectives advanced this theory today after studying descriptions of the gangsters who stepped out of the night to turn the Old Colonial Tea House, famous in Washington as a clandestine meeting place, into a slaughter house as their guns raked the dance floor.

Two of the four wounded are believed to be dying, their physicians said today.

Torio, detectives said, was the driver of the car which carried Philip Spinelli, the suspected killer, and Eugene Caffara, another sought for questioning in the case, to a farm near Saxonburg after the killings of Palmere and Amarosa.

Returning Board Ends Vote Count

The Returning Board today finished its official tabulation of votes cast in the general election, November 4, and certified its tabulations, showing C. M. Barr leading David L. Lawrence for the third commissionership by 7,548 votes.

The figures in the Commissioner race were: Mansfield, 188,081; McGovern, 178,409; Barr, 138,063; Lawrence, 130,515.

The official figures show how accurate were those compiled by the newspapers election night and the day following, when these totals were announced: Mansfield, 186,530; McGovern, 178,712; Barr, 138,557; Lawrence, 129,793.

Tom Mix Near Death After Operation

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 24.—(INS.)—Tom Mix, noted screen actor and circus cowboy, underwent an emergency operation for a ruptured appendix last night, it was learned today. He was reported to be in a critical condition in the Hollywood Hospital.

Mix's 73-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mix, who lives alone at DuBois, Pa., told the Sun-Telegraph today she had had no word of her son's illness. She said:

"If my son wants me to come out to him I will go, although I was in an auto accident myself two weeks ago and my back still hurts me. That was my third auto accident. No, I do not believe I would like to fly out there. I had a letter from my boy Saturday and he was feeling all right then."

AID BY LOBBY IN CAMPAIGN DENIED

Senator Says He Bought Stock Before He Thought Of Running for Office

The Senate's sugar lobby probe adjourned today, subject to call, with these developments:

1. Senator Davis, who demanded the investigation, declared in a statement issued here that his purchase of sugar stock on an unsecured note was a legitimate business transaction.

2. The committee in Washington heard evidence that B. G. Dahlberg, sugar promoter, had contributed to both Republican and Democratic presidential campaigns. Herbert Hoover's visit to Florida before he took office as President was a subject for questioning.

3. In Chicago, Dahlberg declared the lobby testimony was "garbled," and denied he had authorized payment of $10,000 to Davis.

Lapressing surprise that the report of the lobby quiz at Washington finding that he had purchased stock in sugar companies had been given such widespread publicity, United States Senator James J. Davis issued an explanatory statement. He was interviewed yesterday at the Moose headquarters after the Armstrong funeral services. He left last night for Washington.

In the statement Senator Davis said:

"During the primary campaign a year ago last May, a rumor was circulated by a discharged employe of B. G. Dahlberg, of New York and Chicago, that Dahlberg had contributed to my campaign for Senator the sum of $10,000, and that in my report to the Senate committee I had omitted reporting this contribution. The Nye committee investigated that

White House Under Guard Against Red Paraders

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—White House and national capital police established an extra guard today upon receiving reports that Communists intended to picket the executive mansion.

Metropolitan Park police officials, who went to the White House to seek instructions how the paraders should be handled, were told that if the Communist group violated any law, such a parading with banners without a license, they should be arrested after first being warned.

The police commander said he sought specific instructions because, during a past Communist demonstration, those arrested had been ordered released by the President.

Police were stationed in pairs at the White House gates and along the long iron fence setting off the executive mansion's front lawn from Pennsylvania avenue.

Additional motorcycle and patrol officers guarded the entrance to the huge grey stone State Department, which is separated from the White House only by narrow Executive avenue.

LEGISLATURE SPLITS OVER RELIEF

Open Rift Between Pinchot And Opposing Group Seen; Foes May Block Program

BULLETIN.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 24—Allegheny County has 135,000 men and women who formerly were gainfully employed but now are out of work, Horace F. Baker of Pittsburgh told a joint hearing of Senate and House today.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 24—(AP)—An open rift between supporters of Gov. Pinchot and anti-administration forces in the Legislature over the Executive's program for unemployment relief appeared imminent today as a public hearing on the subject was assembled.

From all sides came evidence of the break.

The House by unanimous vote extended to December 2 the last date for the introduction of bills to permit presentation of a legislative program.

In the Senate a resolution was offered by Senator Salus of Philadelphia, one of the leaders of the anti-administration group, [illegible] upon the Governor to consult with members of both Houses and the state's fiscal officers to adopt a new and feasible program.

SENT TO COMMITTEE

The resolution was sent to committee without action by the Senate.

Greeted with welcome by the Governor, the hearing before both houses of the assembly this afternoon was looked to materially by the membership to clarify the issue. Opponents of the Governor believed it would show much, if not all of the executive's program to be unnecessary to meet present conditions, while others expected it to refute any doubt as to the need for adopting the plan in full.

Members of the Governor's cabinet as well as representatives of local community chests and welfare organizations came to the hearing prepared to give figures on the number of jobless in various communities as well as the needs for preventing distress.

The Governor took news of the public hearing in good faith and prior to the meeting of the assembly today said he was glad it had been called.

ANTI-BLUE LAW BILLS OFFERED

HARRISBURG, Nov. 24—A bill to amend the Sunday "blue law" of 1794 was introduced today in the House by Representative Schwartz of Philadelphia. The measure would make it legal for Sunday sports after 2 o'clock.

At the regular session earlier in the year Schwartz sponsored a Sunday milk delivery bill which was amended to permit baseball on that day. The bill permitting Sunday baseball was passed finally by the House, but died in the Senate.

Last night Representative Max J. Spann of Allegheny County introduced a bill to permit Sunday sports, movies, concerts and shows between the hours of 1 and 9 o'clock. Spann's bill would levy a state tax equal to the price of admission, the tax revenue to be spent for unemployment relief.

Spann sponsored another bill which would permit manufacture and sale in Pennsylvania of 4 per cent beer. A license fee of $500 a year would be imposed on manufacturers of beer. The bill also would levy an excise tax of $10 on each barrel of beer.

Woman Braves Chair Peril To Escape Life Term

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Clara Grace Prophet, serving a life term for the murder of her husband, today continued her efforts to obtain a new trial, in face of a warning that success may cost her life in the electric chair.

Through her attorney, the woman carried her appeal for a new trial to the full bench of the State Supreme Court yesterday and argument was to be continued today. Samuel Moyerman, her attorney, was warned by Justice Kephart that Mrs. Prophet may be sentenced to death for the crime if she is granted a new trial.

The woman and her brother, Harold E. Williams, were convicted of slaying William F. Prophet, a year ago. It was charged that Williams killed his brother-in-law for his insurance money and that Mrs. Prophet aided him in order to be rid of her husband.

Moyerman also seeks a new trial for Williams who was sentenced to death. He asked yesterday that the two appeals be heard jointly but the request was denied.

WIDOW CHARGES DURESS IN CONTESTING BASSETT'S WILL

FORCED TO SIGN TESTAMENT, NOTE SAYS

Disregard Document, Says Paper, Found in Effects of Business Man-Evangelist

A note in which he is represented as saying that he was forced to sign his will today was made the basis of a contest over the testament of Ira S. Bassett, wealthy business man-evangelist of 15 years ago.

His widow, Idah Duncan Bassett, of 1304 Macon avenue, Regent Square, filed the protest when the will was offered for probate by the executor, Claude B. Sharp, Jr., oil and gas broker, who described himself as a good friend of the late evangelist.

NOTE OFFERED

At a hearing before Deputy Register of Wills William Berger, Mrs. Bassett offered the note in evidence. She said it was found in an envelope among her husband's effects.

The note read:

"Again on the eleventh day of March, I have been compelled, yes, forced to make a will and sign other papers which I declare now, that shall not stand—I was forced to make this wherein Mr. Claude B. Sharp, Jr., is given right to be my executor and I don't know what else.

"They must not be treated as worth anything in event of my death. No no never. I am in my right mind and now say they must not stand."

There is no bequest to Sharp in the will although Bassett directs him to pay himself $25,000 cash and converts the estate into a trust of which Sharp is made trustee.

BEQUESTS MADE

Here are the bequests: $500 monthly for life to his widow; $500 monthly to a daughter, Lillian Gertrude, and $100,000 outright to each of her children when they become 25 and until then monthly sums ranging from $100 to $500. $100 monthly to his father, George S. Bassett, and a brother, Hiram Bassett, of Mansfield, O. Sharp was represented by Attorneys William A. Griffith and John Henry. Mrs. Bassett by Attorney Howard D. Montgomery.

DEB IN TRAGEDY STILL SHUNS FATHER

Scorns Parent, Rides With Chauffeur on Trip to Visit Brother in Prison

International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Rose Allen today was still unrelenting toward her father, although she had taken active steps to help her brother, Edward, who is held in prison on the charge of murdering her sweetheart, Francis A. Donaldson III.

She and her father visited young Allen in the jail at Norristown. On the trip and in the prison she shunned her father, Horace Allen, refusing to speak to him or to pose with him for a photograph.

Unmoving, her dark eyes staring straight ahead, the 18-year-old girl sat beside the chauffeur in the automobile on the ride. Her father sat in back with Henry G. Pearre, investment broker and friend of the Allens.

As they alighted at the prison gates, Allen tried to help his daughter from the car. She shrank back, then quickly stepped from the automobile, avoiding his touch.

In the visiting room she insisted on being alone while talking to her brother. The latter, his face drawn, talked to her in a low voice. She made frequent notes.

Miss Allen steadfastly refused the suggestion of Pearre that she pose with her father, who, following the shooting of Donaldson by his son, charged Donaldson had wronged his daughter.

She left the jail before her father and again climbed into the seat beside the chauffeur.

Prince, Stripped of Command Of Air Force, Prepares to Leave Rumania With Bride

International News Service

VIENNA, Nov. 24.—Relieved of command of the Rumanian royal air force, Prince Nicholas was preparing today to leave Rumania with his bride, the former Jana Lucia Deleti, according to dispatches from Bucharest.

It was stated that King Carol has ordered Nicholas to go abroad for at least three months, following the latter's refusal to abandon his bride in the face of repeated royal demands.

In leaving Rumania with the woman of his choice, Prince Nicholas will follow in the footsteps of Carol, who years ago gave up his princely rights and went to Paris with his sweetheart, Mme. Magda Lupescu.

At the end of the three months' period of exile it was understood that the King would give Nicholas another opportunity to decide whether he wanted to renounce his morganatic marriage and resume his official position in Rumania.

Sender Invites Mahatma to Hang Self and Offers to Help; Breakdown Feared

By LINTON WELLS
International News Service

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The first thing in the nature of a threat to reach Mahatma M. K. Gandhi since he came here for the Indian round table conference was delivered at his headquarters today.

It was a package containing a string tied around a letter inviting the Hindu patriot to commit suicide by hanging himself in Hyde Park. The writer offered to assist.

HEAVILY GUARDED

Gandhi is being heavily guarded by police and detectives. Wherever he goes the police are present, that is when he rides and when he walks.

The Mahatma exhausted by his extended labors here, is threatened with a serious breakdown, International News Service learned today.

Gandhi had been sleeping only three hours out of 24 since his arrival in London but during the past few days has begun to sleep for an hour or two each afternoon.

AID KEPT NEAR

His associates, fearing that he might suffer a stroke, have insisted that his automobile be supplied at all times with first-aid equipment.

The Mahatma and those who accompanied him here from India are scheduled to sail from either Trieste or Venice on December 11, or 12 on their return voyage.

WALKER FETED ON ARRIVAL TO AID MOONEY

Welcomed in San Francisco; Prisoner's Wife Joins Mayor; May Visit Mother

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Mayor James J. Walker, of New York City, arrived in San Francisco today on his mission to intercede with Gov. Rolph in behalf of Tom Mooney.

The New York Mayor and his party were enthusiastically greeted by Gov. Rolph and Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, of San Francisco. The welcome was extended to Walker as "Mayor of New York City" despite his announcement that he was due in California as a private citizen, solely interested in the Mooney case and in obtaining a pardon for the labor leader serving life for asserted participation in the preparedness day bombing in 1916.

With Mayor Walker were Aaron Sapiro and Frank P. Walsh, attorneys; State Senator John A. Hastings, of New York; Edward N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor; James R. Cromwell, of New York, and Morton Downey, radio singer.

On the Walker train as it arrived was Mooney's wife, Mrs. Rena Mooney, who boarded the train at Sacramento. She said she "just wanted to ride down" with the Walker party.

MAY VISIT MOTHER

Mooney will not be allowed to leave the prison to attend the meetings on his application for pardon, it was indicated although it has been suggested that Gov. Rolph might conduct at least one session inside the prison. It was revealed that Attorney Walsh has repeatedly demanded that Mooney be present in person as the Governor.

Mayor Walker may take occasion to visit Mother Mooney" to talk over with her the plight of her son. It was a pathetic telegram from Mrs. Mooney that was a strong factor in inducing the Mayor to make the trip across the country to plead for Mooney. The Mayor said today that he planned to pay a visit to Mooney in his cell.

An anti-Fascist group expected against Signor Grandi at the Metropolitan Opera House last night was quickly broken up. Leaflets saying "Down With Grandi, Long Live Liberty" were thrown into the house and stamped shoulders of society as presented in the auditorium. Three anti-Fascists were arrested, however. Neither Signor nor Signora Grandi appeared to notice the slight flutter created by the protest.

DUCHESS' WILL IGNORES SON

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The will of the late Duchess of Mecklenburg was filed in Superior Court here yesterday and cut off her only son, Charles Oelrichs Martin of San Francisco, without a cent.

The estate described as "in excess of $10,000" was left to her sister, Mrs. Harrison Tweed, of New York, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles May Oelrichs, of Newport, R. I.

The late duchess, who was at one time Lily Oelrichs, said in the will:

"My son has for a long period of time been disloyal and grossly disrespectful to me, and his conduct toward me has in all particulars been wholly lacking in filial respect. Therefore, I intentionally make no provision for him."

Martin, son of the duchess and her first husband, the late Peter D. Martin, is the grandson of the late Eleanor Martin, who for many years was a San Francisco society leader. He refused to comment on the will.

A statement from the law firm which filed the will revealed a contest undoubtedly would be filed.

Communism Will Triumph, Ex-Professor Declares

The basic principles of Communism will be adopted at some future time throughout the world but Communism itself as it exists today will not, in the opinion of Dr. Herbert A. Miller, of Columbus, O., former professor of Ohio State University. Dr. Miller arrived in town today to speak before the Pittsburgh section of the National Council of Jewish Women in a meeting at the Y. M. & W. H. A., Bellefield avenue, this afternoon.

A cosmopolitanism of the world, speeded by radio and air travel, Dr. Miller said, is rapidly changing the requirements of society. The present depression, he added, has shown the western civilization's system is inadequate. He sees no Russia however, he tests its ground of a new order. He said:

"Russia is going to make an immediate contribution to the world's welfare. It is in the proving of the value of the central plan of organization. It is from this that the new order must grow."

DAVIS EXPLAINS SUGAR STOCK DEALINGS

Business Transaction Not Linked With Campaign, Pennsylvania Senator Declares

[illegible] Page Two.

[illegible] and stated that the statement was untrue.

LOBBYING FUNDS

Just before the Senate adjourned a New York newspaper carried a statement that an unnamed Senator had received $100,000 for lobbying for the sugar interests. The matter was referred to the lobby committee of which the late Senator Theodore H. Caraway of Arkansas was chairman and which included such distinguished Senators as Thomas Walsh of Montana, William E. Borah of Idaho, Hiram Johnson of California, James Reed of Missouri and Arthur Robinson of Indiana.

When I was Secretary of Labor I invested in the Cuban Company and the Southern Sugar Company. The former stock I paid for in cash and the latter by note with the stock as collateral. It was a business transaction and had no connection with the government. Because I was a stockholder it was rumored that I was the unnamed Senator. When I purchased the stock I had not thought of ever being a candidate for a seat in the Senate.

URGED INQUIRY

At that time my friends thought to persuade me not to take any cognizance of the rumor but knowing full well my innocence of the slander thrown out by my political enemies I voluntarily appeared before the Senate committee and urged them to make a thorough investigation. I also appeared before the committee on Senate expenditures and urged them to appropriate the money to enable the committee immediately to begin work. One of the most noted government investigators, John Holland, was appointed by the committee to make the investigation. He has been at work on it since last May and from newspaper reports which I have read this afternoon not one iota of evidence has been produced which connects me with any charge of lobbying or receiving campaign contributions that have not been accounted for which charges it will be recalled were made by innuendo last winter.

'ADS' PLANNED BY CRAFTSMEN

Newspaper advertising was being planned as an important link in a national campaign next year to further the use of memorials as the executive committee of the Memorial Craftsmen of America met today in the William Penn Hotel.

Representatives of the Memorial Extension Commission, an allied organization, were in attendance. As a step towards aiding the merchandising of memorials, an advertising copy service is being introduced to members through the national association. The committee members will be guests at a get-together dinner tonight of the Pittsburgh Memorial Art Club. Pittsburgh will be boosted as the convention city for the national sessions next August, according to Ray I. Belknap, of Pittsburgh.

Our Mr. Fess Isn't Promising A Great Deal

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Senator Fess thinks Mr. Hoover will succeed Mr. Hoover if things improve a little.

It always gets worse before it gets better. But if that's the cream of Senator Fess' predictions he will never be arrested for Gypsy fortune telling.

The G. O. P. is bouncing on [illegible] they've got a better egg than that.

The chairman of the Republican National Committee should claim everything, concede nothing and keep on smiling like a boy on a ferris wheel.

It resembles the last plunk of a dying frog on a leper-infested lily pad.

It sounds like a moan through a black veil.

Is it possible that the Republicans ain't eating regular?

This completed "Christmas Jingle" must be in the mail before midnight, Wednesday, November 25, addressed to CHRISTMAS JINGLES, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. Write No. 14 on the lower left hand corner of your envelope. Names of winners will be published in the Sun-Telegraph one week from day this incomplete "jingle" appears.

Hill Top Woman Takes First Award in 'Last Line' Jingle

Lydia Markle, 666 Boggs avenue, Mt. Washington, was one among thousands who submitted interesting "last lines" for Sun-Telegraph "Christmas Jingle" No. 7, but the judges after serious consideration awarded her first prize—$5 in cash.

This particular jingle had more really consistent and clever answers than any other of the several that have been published in this series. Completed, with Miss Markle's last line, it now reads as follows:

A Newsie named Tommy McVey
Worked hard at his corner each day.
This thoughtful lad
Was a help to his dad
Bringing good news each night with his pay.

The five $1 prize winners are as follows: Mrs. W. H. Williams, 315 Sunerest street, Pittsburgh; Glenn Lowry, 584 Peebles street, Pittsburgh; A. Finnegan, 718 Mary street, McKees Rocks, Pa.; F. V. Daugherty, 1003 Evans street, McKeesport, Pa.; Mary E. Ruffner, 401 Highland avenue, Aliquippa, Pa.

Try your hand on No. 14 appearing on this page today. If you submit what the judges think is the best of all "last lines" sent in, you get a check for $5. The five next best "last lines" will each be awarded $1.

All readers of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, with the exception of employes, are invited to enter the "Christmas Jingle" contest. You can send in as many last lines as you like. Equal awards will be paid to readers whose answers are tied in the judging.

Each Sun-Telegraph "Christmas Jingle" will be consecutively numbered.

ZEMO RELIEVES ITCHING BURNING ECZEMA

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. Creomulsion relieves them now with Creosote as one of its most powerful helpers. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action—it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and stops germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat infection. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs, colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases and is excellent for building up the system after illness or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Here is the fresh cigarette

Never parched, never toasted!

EVERYBODY recognizes now that the Camel Humidor Pack is the greatest cigarette advancement in years.

But everybody may not realize that it is important only because Camels are fresh and flavorful cigarettes to start with.

The tobaccos in Camels are the choicest money can buy—fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos expertly selected and expertly blended.

We never parch or toast these delicate sun-ripened tobaccos—on the contrary we exercise every care and precaution to safeguard the natural moisture which is infused with their mildness and flavor.

The air-sealed moisture-proof Camel Humidor Pack is a boon to Camel smokers because it insures that a fine and genuinely fresh cigarette comes to you in prime smoking condition.

If you seek relief from the harsh hot smoke of factory-stale dry-as-dust strong tobaccos, switch to fresh Camels for just one day—then leave them, if you can.

CAMELS

Made FRESH—Kept FRESH

● Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

CONTRACT LET FOR SCHOOL

Three rooms destroyed by fire at the Homewood school are not needed and the walls will be refaced with brick at a cost of $7,000, if recommendations of Supt of Building James Bovard to the committee on buildings and supplies of the Pittsburgh Board of Public Education last night are carried out.

The committee approved contract for an addition to the Westinghouse High School to cost $62,240. The Sansarlo Company was awarded the general contract on its bid of $271,500. Plans for a new school in Fairhaven road, Brookline to cost $200,000 and to be named in memory of Alice M. Carnal, member of the board who died in Summer, were approved.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold the pores close perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold: whenever breath is bad, tongue coated, or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so gently, so harmlessly and pleasantly — and cost only a dime?

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough due to a cold can be conquered until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It is so easy to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to obtain 1 pint. Or use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup if you prefer. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

CHEMIST FINDS

DOPE

IN MANY COUGH SYRUPS!

DOPE? Yes—dope! Opium. Ether. Chloroform. Morphine. Many old-fashioned cough syrups rely on their for their results.

But—why take chances? Why risk these drugs? Why fool around with dope—particularly with CHILDREN'S coughs?

Smith Brothers' Triple Action Cough Syrup contains NO DOPE. Not a trace of it! It doesn't have to rely on dope. Its "Triple Action" (a scientifically approved principle) stops even a stubborn cough quickly and SAFELY. "Triple Action" does three things: (1) soothes the throat, (2) loosens phlegm, (3) clears air passages.

Smith Brothers' has no bitter dope taste! Children actually like to take it! Only 35c.

"My little girl of three had a very severe cough. Nothing we could do helped. Then yesterday we gave her Smith Brothers' Syrup. And today she's out playing like she got the first time in weeks." Mrs. Chas. T. Bolen, Patchogue, L. I.

Face Covered With Pimples and Blackheads. Cuticura Healed.

"My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. The pimples were red and later festered. They were so itchy that I scratched them until they would bleed and they made me feel very uncomfortable. The trouble lasted about three months.

"I tried other remedies but to no avail. Finally I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each. They helped me so I purchased more and in about two months my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Sara Brandon, R. F. D. 1, Wampum, Pa., Feb. 4, 1931.

Can a Playboy Ever Make A Good Husband?

To Properly Live Up to Pretended Personality Is Difficult—Fay King

By FAY KING.

It is a little startling to see a girl who has assumed a very exotic makeup and dress sitting at a drug store lunch counter heartily enjoying a nice fat sandwich.

Or to see some pale ashen powdered face without rouge and flaming red lips sitting in a car next to a rosy-cheeked mother with two dumpling plump babies.

If one is going to assume the exotic type they must be very careful to choose exotic surrounding and exotic contrasts.

It is only the natural and unassuming that is pleasing any place and everywhere.

To be natural is to be unchanging and not to fear any unflattering background or unfavorable contrasts.

To properly live up to a pretended personality is a difficult problem.

Madge Finds Comfort at the Farmhouse

Dicky and Lillian stared at me for an instant as I said that one person knew of the Chief's connection with Lillian. Lillian's eyes showed no resentment, but apprehension, as Dicky put his father's query to me in the kitchen and with a motive.

Well, was he to get home, she demanded of me and put her arm around my shoulders as Dicky pulled me to my feet. I was so tired and exhausted that I feared as I stalled to wait and with a plausible excuse which I knew bred as much safe collusion between me as a caress he swept me up into his arms and carried me out to the car. Lillian ran past us and climbed into the rear seat and took me from Dicky, who then climbed in beside us.

The drive revived me so that when I reached the farmhouse and Dicky lifted me down, I tried to stand upon my feet.

I am a pelican, he said. I explained that I am feeling ever so much better.

Dicky-bird, Dicky said as if he did not hear a word, I'm keeping his wife close around me.

However, who expects the emergency when you have a perfectly good alibi ready? Of course, I should have my choice of names.

I knew better than to protest again, even when I saw by his labored breathing and his stop upon the landing that he was finding his task arduous. For I thrilled to the knowledge that he was proud and glad thus to take care of me and I snuggled closer into his arms with that warm little feeling at my heart which a wife experiences when after years of marriage her husband shows her the same fierce, protective tenderness which he evinced during the first days together.

Katherine was in the door of my room as we reached the upper hall, and put her finger on her lips.

I don't want Mother Graham or the boys to see you being carried upstairs, she said. It would frighten them terribly. Fortunately, they are all in her room on the other side, so they didn't see you. Right here, Dicky. I have her bed all ready.

Dicky laid me down tenderly, asking anxiously: Are you sure you're all right?

Of course, I said smiling up at him.

Then he kissed me and straightened himself. I think I'll leave you to Katherine and Lillian and go down to see what the Chief's plans are.

Don't forget, I said his alcove that Scottie promised Junior and Roderick to take them riding this morning. But you must keep them close to you.

Never fear! His voice was grim. This'll not go very far. I'll have to make it up to them some other way, but we shall cut out the upper pasture altogether and confine their fun to the lower one and the orchard. And I'll never doubt your father's wisdom again. He's a sapient lad, the Chief.

It is very good of you to say so, Lillian said with a mocking little smile, but I knew that she had uttered the gibe only to minimize the anxiety which she knew I naturally would feel at this fresh evidence that the menace of the mysterious Chinese was more real than we had fancied.

Dicky grinned at her, waved his hand to me and went out of the door. Katherine was undressing me hurriedly and as Dicky closed the door behind him, Lillian came back to the bed and held me up while Katherine put on my pajamas as if I were an elderly invalid.

I'm not a helpless paralytic, I protested weakly.

Redundancy, old dear. I'm ashamed of you. You'll have to take a correspondence course in English if you don't look out, Katherine. You'll have to exercise your authority. She's gone through enough in the last hour to—

So I gather, but if you don't mind, I'll wait to hear about it. Just now, I want this lady to go to sleep.

You won't have to wait for that, I said truthfully for the comfort of my own bed was already smoothing out the frayed ends of my nerves, and I did indeed feel drowsy. But first I want to tell you—

When you wake up, Katherine said relentlessly and Lillian nodded a vigorous assent as she opened the door leading to the room which Mary and Marion were occupying for the summer.

The girls will be gone for the day, and this will give a

Education and Cleanliness Rout Dread Typhus Fever

Dr. Copeland

Typhus fever is a severe disease attended with pain and considerable prostration. It can be distinguished from typhoid fever by the fact that the rash appears on the skin from the third to the fifth day while it differs from typhoid fever in that it rarely results in complications. However, fatal serious cases of typhus fever are occasionally seen.

This disease is more common in Europe than in this country. The last epidemic we had was in 1893. Since then only occasional cases have been reported. When seen in this country it is usually found in recently arrived immigrants.

The prevention of the disease is largely a matter of personal cleanliness. It is also a problem related to the economic welfare. Dark crowded unsanitary homes are favorable to infection with typhus fever.

The general management of typhus fever is very similar to that of typhoid fever. It consists essentially of good nursing, proper food and isolation of the patient.

With complete understanding of the disease, particularly as to its cause, this disease will no longer be encountered. It is more and more rare.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

One can no longer recommend a certain flower seed. Fashionable perfumes are bouquets, blends of flower and artificial synthetic products that depart a lasting quality.

Doing the garden path is one way of putting shape on stormy ways. Hands on hips, walk straight ahead, bring legs straight up from hips as high as can be managed. This exercise pulls hard on the muscles of the calves, develops them, builds a more ample leg contour. Good also for the inner organs, stimulates circulation in the torso.

OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted By Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Late Opening Bids

Often a player will refuse to bid rather than present his opponents with information that will help them to defeat the contract. The story of the Czar's uncle illustrates how careful analysis may prove the inutility of an old rule. The late Czar asked a sentry posted in the middle of a lawn: Why are you posted here? The reply was: Orders. Your Majesty. Puzzled, Nicholas caused the same question to be made of each officer ascending in order of rank, the same reply of "Orders" given by the inquirer, not even the commander-in-chief knew the reason for the order. Finally an aged petitioner made the query. Your grandfather was punished with a patch of white paint on the lawn. He also put a sentry to protect them. His order has never been countermanded.

In the early days of auction bridge it was considered that three quick tricks must be held to open the bidding with one-half quick trick was required to open with fourth hand, and three and one-half quick tricks was the least strength justifying an opening bid either third or fourth hand (unless you are willing to outbid opponents, provided you are weak in both major suits but the strength prescribed will stop game in case your partner has any strength).

Later on the requirements were changed to three quick tricks for opening bid in third hand, two and one-half quick tricks in fourth hand, and two quick tricks in dealer's hand. These requirements have never been withdrawn from circulation those persons who suppose that we are trying to establish from a mathematical standpoint.

Opening bids should be made on hands that have more than average strength. High honors, to encourage bidding in partner and also to show where the strength lies (that is, whether your hand is third hand high or fourth hand high) are important factors in helping your partner to determine safety in entering game. Even the average fourth hand opener of three tricks will more than one defensive trick. Do not open contracting either in third or fourth position unless prepared either to outbid opponents or to prevent them from going game.

Instead of blindly following the ancient rules use the following more practical ideas: Strength in both major suits with 2½ quick tricks usually prohibits an adverse secondary bid from scoring game at love. Weakness in one major suit obligates having at least 3 sure defensive tricks. Strength only in the two minor suits requires at least 3½ sure tricks to justify late opening bids, unless prepared to bid for game.

If you are certain of winning three defensive tricks your opponents cannot score game either at clubs or diamonds. In case you are strong enough to have even 2½ sure tricks almost anything with your partner's hand must present game at a minor make. When you have only one of the two major suits to fear, your three sure tricks must save your game if your partner can win a single trick. Three and one-half sure tricks is the least strength justifying an opening bid either third or fourth hand (unless you are willing to outbid opponents, provided you are weak in both major suits but the strength prescribed will stop game in case your partner has any strength).

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beekman

After Dinner

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

When entertaining friends in your home at dinner, is it correct to serve light refreshments later on in the evening?

P. W.

No, this isn't necessary or appropriate, unless the party extends far into the night.

However, what is customary is that some kind of drink should be passed to the guests about three-quarters of an hour or an hour after dinner. Water should be one alternative, and the other drink what you will—ginger ale, white rock a punch of some kind or whatever your hospitality suggests. It is best form not to serve any food, even a cracker or a biscuit with this.

For Those in Mourning

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

Is it proper for a person in mourning to send Christmas cards? It will be four months after the death.

MRS. U.

This would be entirely according to the feelings and wishes of the person in mourning and of course his or her friends would be most happy to receive these messages. But if they are not sent it would be entirely appropriate, too, and the friends would understand.

Perhaps the one in mourning would be interested in sending short, personal notes of Christmas wishes to the closest friends only. This would indicate excellent taste.

The Loudspeaker

By LOUIS REID

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—According to the prophets of the laboratories the time is near when every home will have a room fitted up exclusively for radio-electrical entertainment, where television and home talkies will share room with a radio news bulletin and talking books that read themselves aloud to those who wish to save their eyes.

Nothing we note is said about the ears . . . Maybe it's because we've reached the state where the ears are not worth saving. . . . Broadcasters will have to be careful with their "talking books." So much sex, you know, in modern fiction . . . Latest to test the theory that an occasional vacation from the microphone strengthens radio popularity is Morton Downey.

It will be interesting to watch how the theory works for Downey. Right now he's perched upon the Mt. Everest of the ether. And the fellow Downey always on the lookout to build his radio audience has new cohorts. After his broadcasts ten of them nightly.

He is besieged by hatfuls of songwriters seeking to have him put in new ballads. Rud Vallee's five go away disappointed. Another Eddie prodigy has come out of San Francisco. 9-year-old Grisha Goluboff, and sure enough there's a Strad a-waiting for him. Wasn't it the Gershwins who, in a song, had some fun with those first names of concert violinists with Heifetz only end in ha. They were of Mischa and Toscha and Yasha. Sports writers have set to pitching name of Gen. Mac upon the record of Young Stribling. But don't worry, they will.

Believe it or not but "Pop Goes the Weasel" has been put through the symphonic hopper, and by a Norwegian at that. . . . Never hear "How Dry I Am" any more. But then, men are not as maudlin as they used to be. . . . Explorers who have been places and seen things—seen some things that nobody believes—are still doing nobly by Lowell Thomas. Here is book exploitation that must make press agents of the theater tear their hair in envy.

Prize contests are cluttering up the air waves, bringing headaches undoubtedly to the Radio Commission. . . . Noble Sissle's band is now playing six times a week. But where is Sissle's old partner, Eubie Blake? If you must know he too has organized a dance orchestra, is giving auditions for broadcasters. . . . First principle of showmanship: leave 'em wanting a little bit more. . . . is gradually being adopted by the radio barons. Here is the Roxy Orchestra leaving you with only a half hour's concert. . . . This department does not pretend to be a seer, but it happened to state that the Metropolitan Opera was going broke one month before the official announcement.

THE WOMAN YOU MARRY should have pearly white, beautiful teeth, healthy gums and a clear skin. . . . Thousands of women and men are in Dr. Walls' Dental Parlors for Dr. Walls' famous Dental Service. Get rid of that toothache. Have your teeth examined. Fillings $1 up—Plate Teeth $5 up. Free examination. Open Daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sundays, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Armstrong's Body Laid to Rest in South Side Cemetery

EMPLOYES' DONATIONS LEAD WELFARE FUND DRIVE

25,000 TAKE PART IN LAST TRIBUTE

Commissioner's Wish for Simple Funeral Overruled By Public Manifestation

A mound of fresh-turned earth in South Side Cemetery today marked the last resting place of all that is mortal of County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong.

Against his expressed wish, his funeral, far from being a simple ceremony, was the most pretentious affair of its kind ever held in Pittsburgh.

But it seemed lately that things were not going the way he planned them. And it was one of the ironies of fate that he should be denied his last wish.

While Commissioner Armstrong's body lay in state in the rotunda of the Courthouse approximately 25,000 persons passed the coffin. A crowd which jammed Grant street from curb to curb from Fifth avenue to Diamond street listened to the services broadcast to thousands standing in nearby streets over an amplifying system. The services were delayed about half an hour until 2:30 o'clock to accommodate the crowds paying their respects to the dead political leader.

CROWD SURROUNDS HEARSE

After his body was carried to the hearse by six police officers, part of the crowd broke away and surrounded the funeral car in Fifth avenue. With difficulty traffic patrolmen cleared a lane from the Courthouse yard to the street to permit the funeral party to leave.

Another crowd of several thousands had gathered at the cemetery. A special detail of police had been ordered there to clear the way to the grave.

500 HEAR RITES

Approximately 500 persons were seated in the Courthouse lobby during the services. This group included men high in the nation's affairs and fanitresses in the Courthouse.

Seated directly in front of the coffin were County Commissioners Babcock and Charles C. McGovern, United States Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis and former Gov. John S. Fisher. Congressmen Edmund F. Erk, Harry Estep and P. J. Sullivan. The judiciary were seated on a palm-screened platform on the left side of the coffin. Mayor Charles H. Kline and his cabinet were seated on a similar platform on the opposite side. Gilbert C. Cloonan headed the employes of the Commissioners' office, who acted as ushers.

Former State Senator M. G. Leslie made his first appearance in public for months when he joined with a group of county officials as they looked for the last time at their departed leader.

The funeral decorations remained in the Courthouse today for public inspection after which the flowers will be sent to hospitals and the ferns and palms will be returned to the city conservatories.

ADVISE CALVIT PAY FOR AUDIT SUIT COUNSEL GET $10,000

Lawyers Set Fee for Work In Moore Will Contest, Lillian Russell Estate

A total fee of $10,000 was declared a reasonable compensation for New York and Pittsburgh attorneys represening Mrs. Dorothy Russell Calvit in her conest of the will of her stepfather, Alexander P. Moore, late Pittsburgh publisher and Ambassador to Spain, at a hearing before Judge Thomas P. Trimble in Orphans' Court.

Mrs. Calvit, daughter of the famous light opera star, Lillian Russell, sought one-half of Moore's estate, alleging a pre-nuptial agreement between Moore and her mother. Judge Trimble denied the claim, holding that the agreement, an alleged oral one, was not proved. He directed, however, that Mrs. Calvit's counsel should be paid for their services out of Moore's estate.

During the contest Judge Trimble found that Moore fraudulently converted assets of his wife's estate and ordered restitution to her estate.

ADVISE CALVIT PAY FOR AUDIT OF POOR BOARD HELD UP

McGovern Demands Directors Provide Cash; Suit on Fund Use Due Tomorrow

The County Commissioners today deferred action on a request for $4,516.15 to cover expenses of the recent audit of the County Poor Board's funds by three attorneys appointed by the court. Protesting the payment, Commissioner McGovern said:

"This expense should be paid out of the funds of the Poor Board.

"The audit is perhaps only the beginning of a number of investigations of the board."

On McGovern's motion the bill submitted by Controller Robert G. Woodside was turned over to County Solicitor Mortimer B. Lesher for an opinion as to who is responsible for its payment.

The Poor Board investigating committee appointed by Judge James H. Gray is in conference again today in preparation of a $750,000 taxpayers' bill for an accounting which probably will be filed tomorrow in Common Pleas Court.

The main item of the bill will be a $500,000 bond issue for construction purposes which the committee declares never was submitted for the approval of the County Commissioners and which was finally thrown into general funds and used for current expenses at the County Home.

$100 Offered For Proof Of Fund Rumors

A reward of $100 has been offered personally by directors of the Welfare Fund to any person who can submit authentic evidence of the truth of rumors which are being circulated to the detriment of the campaign now being conducted. In announcing their offer campaign leaders challenge those who have thoughtlessly or maliciously circulated stories.

The rumors which the directors deny and offer the $100 to anyone who can prove them to be true are:

1. That a certain sum was contributed to the Welfare Fund on to one of its agencies to be used to a specific family and that the family received only 50 or 60 per cent of the amount the balance being retained for overhead or as a commission.

2. That any of the board of directors or directing committee receives salaries or any form of compensation from the Welfare Fund for their services.

3. That any solicitor for the Welfare Fund receives a percentage of contributions secured or any other form of compensation for this service.

Failure to Reach Goal Held Hoover Plan Menace; $2,000,000 to Be Raised

A list of Welfare Fund donors will be found on page 10.

Workers for the Welfare Fund and the Allegheny Emergency Association today reported the lowest daily total of the campaign — $90,776.15 from 6,971 subscriptions. This brings the grand total to $3,722,976—more than $2,000,000 short of the aim of $5,981,184.

The employes' gifts, under W. F. Quinn, again featured reporting 4,500 subscriptions totaling $14,000. Joseph Ainsworth, general chairman, told the workers the chief feature of reports now being received was the generosity of the moderately salaried persons.

The grand total now shows 60,000 subscriptions as against 110,000 subscriptions last year.

Mt. Kenyon volunteers conducted a separate campaign as part of the fund drive, turning in reports of $1,486 bringing the city's total to $41,875, with workers confident of their goal. Workers will hold their closing meeting tomorrow in the Penn-McKee Hotel.

Allen T. Burns, of New York, executive director of the National Association of Community Chests and Councils, speaking at the workers' meeting in the William Penn Hotel yesterday, emphasized the fact that other large cities are reaching their objectives for relief.

He said Cleveland was expected to close its campaign for $3,650,000 successfully today.

Allen declared that failure here would jeopardize President Hoover's program and direct the fire of opponents in the coming Congress at present plans whereby communities are to meet their own problems.

City Clerk Robert Clark said contributions of city employes would run between $85,000 and $90,000. Already one-third of the employes have donated $33,261.96. Joseph Horne Company employes have subscribed $37,280, it was announced.

Hurry, Little Girls! Christmas Is Only Thirty-two Days Away!

DOLL LADY

Has Hundreds of Glorious, Big

"HONEYBUNCHES"

To Give Away, But Advises Every Little Girl To Get Hers NOW—Before the Christmas Rush

Read the Doll Lady's Message Today:

Dear Little Girls:—

While I have been trying to get the Christmas spirit going a little earlier than usual this year, I, of course, have been more or less handicapped by the intervening Thanksgiving holiday. Well, that's here Thursday, and I hope that every little girl in Pittsburgh and vicinity will get a big feast of turkey and all the trimmings. But please don't eat so much that you'll have to go to bed and call a doctor. That will be just too bad.

This is "Honeybunch." Isn't She a Darling?

In the meantime, the spirit of the Thanksgiving season is about the same as that of Christmas—they both spread good cheer. And now let's try and keep the spirit of good cheer going right up to and after the Christmas holidays. I'm going to do everything I can to spread it and "Honeybunch," my wonder doll, is going to help me and help you.

"Honeybunch" has already met with a popularity that I hardly dared to anticipate. Every little girl who has had this marvelous big dolly in her arms gets thrilled with excitement. Why shouldn't she? "Honeybunch" is so different from other dolls—she's just a gorgeous big beauty with a charming voice, marvelous organdy clothes in dainty colors, lace trimmed, and a chic lace cap to match. She has the cutest shoes and stockings you ever saw, rubber arms and hands that move just like those of a real live baby and roguish eyes that open and shut. She uses a pacifier and, believe it or not, has rubber panties.

Incidentally, "Honeybunch" is covered by patents. She is an exclusive doll in every way, does many cute things that ordinary dolls can't do, and is as nearly unbreakable as a doll can be made. She is not on sale in any of the stores. You can only get her from the Sun-Telegraph Doll Lady—that's me.

I am particularly delighted this year because the Sun-Telegraph has made it so easy for you to get a "Honeybunch." If you want one of these marvelous dollies all for yourself and will promise to do something for me, I'll write and tell you just what to do. Send me your name and address on the coupon in this announcement and I'll send you a letter of instructions and a fine colored picture of "Honeybunch."

Here are the names of some of the little girls who have already written to me: Ellen Griffin, Daisy Stewart, Mary Beth Brown, Marie Smith, Shirley Williams, Virginia Johnston, Hilda O. Beck, Mary Lois Cain, Mabel Shust, JoAnn Myers, Anna Mae Simmons, Anna H. Burick, Catherine Shoop, Jean Dart and Eleanor Tucker.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person In Just a Little While

People have found out that new-fangled ideas and notions don't break up colds. So millions have turned back to first principles and use what they know breaks one up in a jiffy. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to trifle with.

The thing to do is to get Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon you'll start to feel like a new person. Things will loosen up, your head will clear; aching go—you'll be back on the job with a wallop.

Get Hill's now. It is a scientific formula made to do one thing well, to knock a cold—not to cure a thousand ailments. Get your money back if it doesn't work with twice the speed of anything else you've ever tried.

'Three's a Crowd,' Revue In Nixon, Discloses Many Novelties

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

"Three's A Crowd," revue that pleased the blase New Yorkers throughout an extended run last season, came to the Nixon last night with the original stars, Clifton Webb, Fred Allen and Libby Holman. Some of the Nixon audience were even more blase than habitues of the acknowledged blase sector of the universe, the Broadway headquarters for ennui and that bored feeling, for, at the entr'acte, there were heard murmurs from some of the customers to the general purport that it [illegible] crowded with satisfac- [illegible] as these particular [illegible] were concerned.

Yet we wonder if the customer [illegible] right. The generous applause most of the show received is the cause of the wonder. Certainly it is a different sort of revue, a revue of ideas, most of [illegible] of them novel. Miss [illegible] is handicapped because the featured singer. Miss [illegible] in three songs has to depend [illegible] thing to Remember Y... B... and Body and Soul.

IS WARMLY ACCLAIMED

Even though they are [illegible] the dramatic effect that the gifted Miss Holman is capable of, [illegible] does not give them the [illegible] it appears they might. Yet Miss Holman was warmly acclaimed a tribute to her mellow voice and artistry. "Valley [illegible] third song not yet stereotyped, seemed to be greeted with more spontaneous approval.

Then our friend, Mr. Allen, probably the most original of all comedians, had difficulty getting over. In the past Mr. Allen has been one of Mr. Winchell's favorite contributors. Walter recently inquired in his column what had become of Fred. Answer: he is working like the devil. "Three's a Crowd" with varying success, sometimes dying on his feet and sometimes scoring heavily.

SHOWS VERSATILITY

He ought to have another comic of different type to spell him occasionally. There can be too much of a good thing. Fred proves it, though never on any of his previous appearances here has he shown so much versatility. With the high and low spots lowest being the Admiral Allen sat- [illegible] he strikes a fair average.

Clifton Webb also is a busy boy in "Three's a Crowd" and he impressed the audience especially with his graceful and novel dancing, although his singing wasn't the kind to be sneezed at either. Nor his acting, ranging from comedy in the skits, to drama in a spectacular song number, "Night After Night," in which Old Man Remorse gives a gay boy a distorted vision of a wild night.

NOVELTY IN DANCE

Mr. Webb and Tamara Geva take care of the important dancing in a highly satisfactory way and reach the height of the fantastic in "The Body and Soul Dance," an effective show of terpsichore heightened by most novel and bizarre lighting effects and stage setting.

Helen Ault, a peppy miss is the exemplar of all the soubrettish song and stepping efforts, and makes a good job of it.

It has been stated "Three's a Crowd" is a revue of ideas. That begins to develop right at the beginning when a bedroom scene is hailed by Mr. Allen who calls in the stage hands, directs them to carry off the offending piece of furniture and introduces the chorus in a song, "We Ain't Goin' to Have No Beds."

We have told you the worst and some of the best. And we believe that the worst deserves at least a passable grade and that the best is bright, novel and amusing.

Selig Is Star In Academy

Irving Selig has the role of comedian in his latest production, "Pleasure Seekers," in the Academy. Tangara, South Sea dancer, displays four distinct terpsichorean interludes. Nell Cason is a stepping soubret, and Rose Lee is a clown type of comedienne. Wanita Casino, violinist; Attie Lloyd, comic; Peggy O'Neil, Jack Ward, character man; Buddy Rose, tap dancing specialist, and Herbert Barris, straight man, complete the cast. Mary Walton and Betty Duval are again appearing as extra features on the runway and Midgie and Betty are seen in specialties.

Bridge Expert Is Again In Enright

Mrs. H. J. Bailey again will answer all queries and give instructions on bridge in the mezzanine lobby of the Enright tomorrow. There is no charge.

Magicians Are Going To Beaver Falls

Pittsburgh magicians and friends of magic are traveling to Beaver Falls this week, where George, Supreme Master of Magic, is playing three days at the Rialto Theater. He is not as well known as Thurston because he has been in South America for [illegible] eight weeks in Buenos Aires, 10 weeks in Rio and 12 in Montevideo. His needle-eating and threading [illegible] has made him famous, though everything vanishes from his mysterious hands. That explains why Pittsburgh prestidigitators are making a pilgrimage to Beaver Falls today and tomorrow.

The Alvin with Al Jolson in "The Wonder Bar," and the Nixon with "Three's A Crowd," were equally popular last night with Pittsburgh folks. Among the smartly gowned first nighters who filled the Alvin were the T. M. Joneses III, with Mrs. Jones regal in wisteria satin, having a draped neckline and a wrap of black velvet and white fox. The Herbert A. Mays were chatting in the foyer and Mrs. May wore a striking gown of deep cream satin having long, boyfriend sleeves banded with Kolinsky. Mrs. Frank Weberman appeared in phantom red crepe with the decolletage outlined with rhinestones.

The David E. McCahills with their two daughters, Marie and Marguerite, were among the spectators, and Mrs. McCahill wore black lace with a fitted train and an apple green velvet flapper tip jacket. Her daughters were attired dressed alike in coats of foliage green satin, having bows of green satin and brown velvet at the shoulder, and narrow twisted belts of the same combination. Their three-quarter capes were of black velvet furred with white fox.

Mrs. Edward McKinney was there and I noticed the Grant H. H. McClintics in a box with the Harley Chases. III and Mrs. McClintic was wearing white satin with a wrap of black velvet and Mrs. Chase chose black velvet with a matching wrap. Mrs. H. C. Buchman, Jr. appeared in eggret velvet and Mrs. Carl M. Miller in brown lace.

* * *

"Three's a Crowd" attracted many to the Nixon. There was Lucille DeFrance in crystallized satin and a cape of mink. Mrs. Jack Bissell and Mrs. Alan S. Humphreys in red velvet and a red velvet wrap with deep cuffs and a shawl collar of chinchilla.

Mrs. James McKay was in white red chiffon. Mrs. E. P. Mellon II in Kelly green crepe with brief sleeves and Genevieve Bell in black taffeta.

Mrs. William A. Dickhaus sat in black velvet and [illegible] shaved lapin and Mrs. J. J. Lewis in black velvet with a cape and scarf of white lapin.

Mrs. Wilmer M. Jacoby wore an interesting gown of Irish green crepe. Others there were Mrs. David M. Gilmore in black lace, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin Robinson, the B. F. Joneses III, Mrs. George A. Kelly III in black velvet, the junior William C. Robinsons and the Charles Dahlingers.

Shows Pictures Of Travels at 20th Century

Through the usual soprano-contralto hum at the Twentieth Century Club yesterday rose the higher treble of little girls' voices, for a number of school girls had come to hear Dr. Thomas S. Arbuthnot talk on "Africa's Backward People and Forward Animals." And they were well repaid, for not only did this Pittsburgh lawyer show some remarkable animal pictures, both motion and still, and some beautiful views, but he kept his audience in a continuous state of laughter with his genial humor.

Dr. Arbuthnot and his two companions, Kenneth and Fletcher Walker, traversed 12,000 miles, studying the people, animals and bird life of the country and procuring museum specimens. The Walker boys, Dr. Arbuthnot said, tried to stir up every hour of every day every thrill Africa held, and one could easily believe this when shown pictures of animals racing with the truck driven by the boys or lions about to attack the venturesome Americans.

Dr. Arbuthnot said the party often saw 3,000 head of game at a waterhole in the early morning. One film pictured 22 miles of flamingoes, wing to wing.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. David Wilson Kuhn.

SIMPLICITY MARKS CHIC AFTERNOON MILLINERY

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Nov. 24 — The new hats may be shallow, but there is certainly a lot to them. Just now one sees everywhere the most attractive little hats of felt with little brims all very deftly manipulated with curves over the eye or with cuff brims that give the boat shaped line that is so liked by the younger woman who doesn't need the kindly and flattering attentions of a brim.

* * *

FEATHERS ARE present but they are tailored especially for wear during the day. Did the milliners really think that women were going to go about their daily tasks with long, wilowy plumes? We are wise enough to reserve the richer more luxurious accents for evening and go about our daily tasks attractively but more simply dressed. And so we wear becoming little shapes of felt with our autumn coats with their important fur collars. Surely the combination of a large collar of fur with a long plume would be just a little too much, wouldn't it?

* * *

MARIA GUY recently showed a small but imposing mid-season collection designed specifically for her private European clientele and not for the professional market. It is at such a representation that one gets the best idea of what is really being worn by the fashionable woman here. We are glad to show you sketches of two hats.

PANKA STOPPED IN JIGTIME AT GARDEN

By HARRY KECK

CROWD IS STUNNED

IN THIS GAME Ian Brown contributed a feature by making a dazzling 80-yard run for the first touchdown. His gallop, a perfect play down the side line, which practically duplicated his run against Kansas Aggie a week earlier, started the Huskers off in the opening quarter. Aided by some fine blocking he evaded the Iowa State safety man and led the parade across the chalk lines. Rodeo's generalship has had a similar effect upon the Panthers. It changed them from a good team into a sensational one.

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY—ALEXANDER LAAS, THE HUMAN FISH—Alexander Laas, a 26-year-old Estonian, completed a swim across the Gulf of Finland from Reval to Porkkala Island on the Finnish coast, a distance of 65 kilometers, August 18, 1932. He swam from Aegna Island to Porkkala, 37 miles, in 19 hours and suffered considerable from the cold as the water was only 11 degrees above zero centigrade. Laas, who now plans to swim the English Channel in an attempt to break the existing record, is known as an unusually accomplished swimmer and has been dubbed the "human fish" because his normal blood temperature never exceeds 75 degrees Centigrade, or 67 degrees Fahrenheit.—THE GIRL WHO ROLLER SKATES UPSIDE DOWN—During the past few years Peggy Gray, of 310 Orange place, Plainfield, N. She eats upside down, holding the knife and fork in her toes, she does tap dancing on her hands, wearing specially constructed taps, she plays a trap drum with her feet, takes daily strolls in Plainfield on her hands, going up and down steps, and other similar "hand feats," but the most astounding is that of roller skating on her hands, using special skates.

TILDEN RUNS INTO GRIEF

Well, well, here's grief for you And it's all Bill Tilden's.

Big Bill the tennis ace was due late today to prepare for his exhibition matches with Vincent Richards, Charles Burke and Emmett Pare at Motor Square Garden Friday night but received word before his matches in Harrisburg last night that his court paraphernalia—2,700 pounds of it had been held up by the customs authorities in New York and he would have to post bond to get it out of hock and ship it here.

That upset Bill no end and he lost to Richards in straight sets 10-8, 6-1 and with Pare to Richards and Burke in the doubles, 6-4, 10-8, 6-2, and then hopped a train for New York to see what he could do about the situation. He hopes to have the matter adjusted and to ship the portable court here in time for play. In Harrisburg the touring tennisers had to borrow equipment from a sporting goods house.

Pare and Burke are due in town tonight with Tilden getting here as soon as he can possibly tomorrow and Richards following Friday morning. Meanwhile, the tennis enthusiasts of our village are sitting up and paying attention and the chance are the quartet will play to a good-sized gallery.

Rhea, Nebraska Gridder, to Be Married Here

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24 (AP)—Hugh Rhea, star tackle of the University of Nebraska football team, and Marguerite Danielson, Saxton, Pa., will be married in PITTSburgh on Thanksgiving Day, after the Nebraska-Pitt football game, it has been announced.

Miss Danielson was graduated from the University of Nebraska last year and is now teaching in Saxton. Her parents reside in Spencer, Neb. Rhea will continue his school work.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 24 (AP)—Frank Carideo, a choice for all-America quarterback last year when he played on the last Rockne-coached Notre Dame football team, and Vera Crawley, of Columbia, Miss., were married in the Administration Building on the Notre Dame campus yesterday.

They obtained a marriage license at the County Clerk's office a half hour before the ceremony. The football star gave his name as Frank Frederick Carideo, and his age 23. Miss Crawley gave her age as 22.

ALBRIGHT QUITS PANTHER QUINT

Bus Albright, star center of last year's University of Pittsburgh varsity basketball team, has quit school, for his studies, and now the Panthers, facing a [illegible] card of 22 games are minus [illegible] brilliant [illegible] of play.

Pearl Coe, [illegible] Carlson in confirming the resignation of Albright from the squad, said that the press of scholastic duties following loss of work after having been laid up last spring from two operations, caused the Uniontown basketeer to decide upon his course.

Albright came to the Panthers from the Uniontown Junior College, which also produced Les Cohen, his predecessor, and had anticipated a bright future until he was taken ill and operated upon for appendicitis last spring. He had his tonsils removed in June. Bus also changed his course from the School of Economics to the School of Education and planned on graduating in June.

The result of his illnesses together with the pressure of scholastic work, combined to cause him to [illegible] early practice [illegible] the season and after a lengthy conference with Dr. Carlson, he decided to complete his education without the hardship of keeping his place on the basketball team. He left the squad with the best wishes of his teammates.

Dr. Carlson already is grooming Les Cohenfort, former Peabody High lad, for Albright's job, although he has indicated he might replace Don Smith, a guard last year although regular center two years ago on the freshman team, at the pivot job. Prospects for a strong Panther quintet, in spite of the loss of Albright, appear to be bright.

CLAIRTON HOST TO TUBERS ON TURKEY DAY

By JULIUS LEVIN

Three undefeated scholastic football teams will stake all their hopes of completing their 1931 schedules without meeting a reverse on the outcome of their battles on Thanksgiving Day.

The Clairton-McKeesport game at Clairton brings together two undefeated elevens in what should prove the feature attraction on the Turkey Day program. Clairton boasts a string of nine successive victories while the Tubers are just one shy of this mark. Both teams will be out to score a victory as defeat means elimination from the W P I A L championship race. Clairton defeated Duquesne last Saturday, 27-0, while McKeesport enjoyed an open date.

SWISSVALE FEATURE

Thanksgiving Day morning finds Coach Pickett's undefeated Edgewood gridders opposed to Ed Paulie's Swissvale aggregation at Swissvale. The two schools have been old football rivals and Thursday's contest promises to prove a thriller. Although Swissvale has been beaten this season Ed Paulie's team is bent on handing Pickett's eleven its initial setback. Edgewood has beaten Swissvale during the last four years and Swissvale feels certain that the tide will turn Thursday morning. Wilson and Garbark will lead the Edgewood attack while Swissvale will place its hopes on Casillo, its triple-threat ace, and Catone and Matelan.

Another morning game will be played in Avalon for the benefit of the unemployed of that borough. The high school eleven has booked a powerful alumni aggregation for the contest. Interest is high and a large crowd is expected.

JUNIOR GRID TITLE DIVIDED

North Braddock and North Rostraver Township junior high schools were awarded the joint football championship of the Junior Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League at the fall meeting and banquet, held last night in the Clairton High School.

Inasmuch as a difference of five or more points must separate a champion from the runner-up, and North Braddock had compiled 120 to North Rostraver's 117½, the committee had nothing to do except divide the honors.

Each school will receive a suitably-engraved trophy.

The principal speaker was Edwin Wicht, P. I. A. A. secretary, while an address also was made by H. W. Crane, Monogahela Junior High principal and president of the W. P. I. A. L. Crane presided.

PANKA'S QUICK KAYO SETS RECORD

Cleveland last July for one of the few setbacks in his record.

Aside from the thrill of a lifetime provided by the quick finish in the main bout, the semi-final of eight rounds between Sid Silas of New York and Leo Petrone of Worcester, Mass., and Eric provided the fireworks on the card which was witnessed by a small crowd. Petrone upset the dope by winning the decision over Silas but not until after the latter again had made a big hit with the crowd as he did in his bout against Eddie Brannon recently.

Petrone, scaling 147 pounds against 139 for Silas, started off at top speed and battered Silas from pillar to post in the first round, flooring him for a count of one and having him groggy and covering until he himself tired from his efforts to finish the youngster and went down for a count of nine from a right to the jaw just before the bell.

CROWD APPLAUDS BOUT

Silas won the second round in which his nose began to bleed, was outpunched in the third, especially with lights to the body, went down for no count from a left hook in the fourth, held his own in the fifth, suffered a cut eye in the sixth, cut Petrone's left eye and floored him for no count in the seventh and was almost out from the hot pace and terrific punching in the eighth. It was such a slambang fight on the part of both that the fans applauded the battlers long after they had left the ring.

Young Rudy of Charleroi, 148½, outslugged Johnnie Cooper, Negro, formerly of Cincinnati, 147½, in the first eight-round bout and Don Frazier, Negro of the Hill, 132½, won over Lou Saunders of Beaver Falls, 131, in an uninteresting six-round opener.

Al Grayber and Eddie Kennedy alternated as referees. Frank Brown and Jock Sutro were the judges, Tommy Grant and Norman Borland the timers and Bill Shuster the announcer, with Dr. J. W. McMeans the commission physician.

HERRERA-JADICH NEXT

The Tony Herrera-Johnny Jadich return bout was announced for next Monday night. Sawdust boxes in the boxers' corners were used between rounds for the first time to prevent splashing of water and spitting upon the ringsiders.

Between Rounds

Philadelphia will have an afternoon boxing show on Thanksgiving Day, with Pat Hare and Billy Ketchum doing over the eight-round route at the Arena. A. C. Tommy Conway and Mickey Michaels are in another eight-rounder and Frank Little meets Jimmy Rhodes for the same distance. Tony Morgano boxes Jimmy Stewart and Jimmy Mack meets Teddy Baldwin in six-round bouts at the Broadway A. C., Philadelphia, Thursday night.

Charley Champagne, of Cleveland, has been substituted for Marty Mellair as Young Eagle's opponent at Warren, W. Va., Saturday night.

Reports have it that the friendship between Jack Sharkey and Ernie Schaaf is at the breaking point and the pair may clash before long to settle a grudge. Sharkey is part manager of the young heavyweight star.

Schaaf will box Frankie Simms and Paul Pirrone will meet Lou Brouillard, welterweight champion, in 10-round bouts on the annual Christmas fund card in Cleveland, December 10.

Jimmy Getz, 122-pounder of Bangor, Pa., is in town seeking whom he may devour with G. H. Smith, of 2021 King street, after Charlestown, as his manager. Jimmy has boxed 65 bouts, most of them as an amateur, and is Pennsylvania Railroad champion.

Entry blanks may be obtained at A. A. U. headquarters, 31 Vandergrift Building.

Amateur boxing shows are scheduled for tonight at the Lynwood Club and in Croatian Hall, Ambridge.

Newsboy Brown battles Young Tomio for the California bantamweight title at Los Angeles tonight and Billy Slaughter and Slats Leach meet at Indianapolis.

The card has been arranged for the Pete Butch vs. Cleveland interclub amateur show at the Keystone A. C., Thursday night. Bouts are as follows, six rounders (Cleveland boxers being named first): 112-pound class, Billy Eisner vs. Frankie Winger; 125-pound class, Paul Mazer vs. Bills Moran; Ken Disch vs. George Julius and Billy Burns vs. Johnnie Dupree; 147-pound class, Ralph Phillips vs. Herbert McCoward; 160-pound class, Joe Malinski vs. Chuck Mullins; heavyweight class, Glen Miller vs. John Ochs. All of the local boxers represent the Willow Club, while the Clevelanders hail from the Robins A. C.

Jack Britton's young son, boxing under the same name, meets Eddie Berkowitz in a bout in Orange, N. J., tonight.

Dave Mazer meets George Nichols and Tony Zorza engages Joe Lyons in the six-round semi-final at Buffalo Friday night.

The Joe Rolland-Jack December bout, twice postponed, is back in for Cleveland Friday night. Mickey Farr battles Joey Rolando and Eddie Bolack meets Leo Spross in preliminaries.

Biddy McArthur, of McKeesport, has been entered in the N. B. A. light-heavyweight tournament, which gets under way in the Chicago Stadium, December 11.

Motor Square Garden is angling for a match between Battling Battalino, the featherweight champion, and Frankie Bojarski for Christmas afternoon.

Danny Belmont, Chicago lightweight, arrived in town yesterday and will be host to Joey Thomas, the featherweight, who did some good fighting around here before going on an Australian trip. Both will be under the management of Al Suttle. Belmont has a match in the making with Frankie Bojarski in Erie.

Bennie Base and Jackie Pilkington have been matched to box at the Arena in Philadelphia next Monday night.

Phillie Griffin, of Newark, N. J., boxes Frankie Bojarski at Erie Friday night.

BARTON SHOWS WELL IN FIRST WORKOUT

By CARL W. SHATTO

Hard to get back to the scene of his earlier triumphs, Cliff Barton, the Yellow Jackets' new right wing, reported to Coach Charley Reid yesterday a few hours after he was obtained from the New York Rangers and worked out with the local skaters today as they prepare for their International League game with the Cleveland Indians at Duquesne Garden, Thursday night.

Barton, who first came here along with Bill Barry in 1929 when Pittsburgh was represented in the National League, appears to have benefitted from his additional year of experience in fast company.

WORKS SMOOTHLY

Teamed with Whitey Feick at center and Cam Proudfoot at left wing, he skated in the position heretofore occupied by Tex White in the drill today and the trio performed so smoothly that Coach Reid will have Barton in the same spot in the battle with the Indians.

Cliff came here via the Springfield club of the Canadian-American League. He went from Philadelphia to the Rangers and because the New York club has an overabundance of fine forwards he was farmed to Springfield when the 1931-32 campaign got under way.

The Jackets' somewhat indifferent showing against Buffalo here last Thursday prompted Coach Reid to institute a search for a new center and a new right wing. The local icemen showed improved form in battling Detroit to a 3-3 tie in Detroit Sunday night but Reid hasn't given up his quest for a new pivot.

LOCKING IMPRESSIVE

Norman Locking, another new Jacket, who has not yet performed at the Garden, scored a goal in making his debut in a Pittsburgh uniform Sunday, and he may see further action in the game here Thursday.

The Reidmen held Cleveland to a 1-1 tie in their first meeting of the season, at Cleveland on November 14, and everything points to another close fight in their second engagement.

The London Tecumsehs are to appear here Saturday night.

CORNHUSKERS START EAST

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 24—Coach Dana X. Bible allowed his Nebraska gridders to take it easy during practice last evening, preparing for the Pittsburgh game at Pittsburgh Thursday. The team came through its game with Ames in excellent condition. Not a single player was badly injured and the 'Huskers will be able to play with their full strength.

The team left here this morning and intends to run through one practice session in Pittsburgh tomorrow afternoon.

Defensively the team looks great, and it is almost sure that Pittsburgh will find a stone wall in the 'Husker line.

If the Panther pass attack is as formidable as the press notices say it is it is sure to give Bible's men trouble.

Nebraska has had a scout watching Pittsburgh every game this season. Coaches have diagrams of every clever play, every well-hidden pass used this season, and for the past 10 days most of the practice has been centered around the "Let's Beat Pittsburgh" campaign.

COURT LOOP FORMED

Four teams were admitted to the Tri-County Basketball League at its organization meeting last night. They are Jeannette Eagles, Charleroi Merchants Wagner Tavern and Monongahela Stalmans. Officers were elected, Lawrence Elizabeth, president; Mt. Pleasant, Latrobe, Monessen, Connellsville, Uniontown and McKeesport are reported to have made applications. An other meeting is to be held Sunday. Homer Wagner was elected president and W. H. Tippett, secretary and treasurer.

MT. OLIVER BEATEN

Mt. Oliver commences a basketball team with defeat at the hands of the Trinity Cathedral Rovals 35 to 32 at Trinity last night.

Miss Danielson, a former Nebraska co-ed, hails from Spencer, Neb.

TECH, DUKES OFF TONIGHT

injury has not responded to Trainer Bert Munhall's careful treatment as yet. It would be o. k. if Hooks could have a cast on, but casts are barred now, and you can bet all the team in Chicago or all the china in a restaurant that Chick Meehan won't stand for having the rule waived to benefit Tech.

The Tartans apparently hit their stride against Pitt and continue against Temple. They're better than an outside chance of beating New York, but without Hooks, the chance becomes slighter. Heinzer, the big right guard, who has a bad leg, still is getting around with a limp and cannot be figured on as a sure shot for action, although if they can't use Sample, Heinzer will have to go.

The remainder of the Tartan squad has been well rested since the Temple contest and the squad, aside from the two guards, is in good physical condition. Fullback Jerry O'Toole has rejoined the team and likely will take over the fullbacking duties Thursday.

DUKES HOPEFUL

The Dukes decidedly are hopeful of brinsing home a triumph from the South. A year ago Howard appeared here in Pittsburgh and gave the locals all sorts of trouble before succumbing by a 14-9 count.

Unless there is a letdown, the Dukes ought to be in there all the way. They played admirable ball against North Dakota, a potentially more powerful eleven than Howard, and appeared to have struck their real stride for the first time this year.

JACK DEMPSEY WINS

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP)—After a six-round fight, Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, weighed up at 200 pounds, last night with Babe Herman, Tulsa, Okla., oil man, who tipped the scales at 190 pounds, in an exhibition bout. Dempsey weighed 195. Huge, 197.

CIRCUIT CARD DRAWN UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—A tentative schedule of 15 weeks of racing was drawn up by the stewards of the Grand Circuit at their annual meeting in Detroit.

With three new members, Boston, Buffalo and Peoria, applying for dates, there was a conflict in one or two of the meetings which will be straightened out by a committee headed by F. Roland Harriman, president of the organization. The tentative schedule:

Officers were re-elected.

RULE COVERING EXPENSES MAY BE DISCARDED

No person shall be allowed to participate in intercollegiate contests who receives any gifts, remuneration or pay for his services on an athletic team."

There is a notation to the effect that students may receive tuition and fees whereby they can earn enough to partially take care of expenses for board, room and books.

It is intended that such a rule was adopted that would be in force next year, that no great advantage would be taken. The Conference members agreed, all steps were taken to discard it.

Athletic Director Edgerton of Geneva announced that football relations between Geneva and the Dukes had been broken off for 1932, due to the fact that the Dukes won Geneva to recognize the freshman rule. The Edgerton and Geneva men to its

Wall Street Discussing Present $4 Dividend On Steel Common

The recent course of events bearing on the general business and financial situation have not tended to change the market opinion of at least one large operator who turned to the bull side a few weeks ago. Though most of his contemporaries are quite bearish in their views said operator, hailing from the environs of Boston, is determined to stand by his belief that the worst has been seen, both at home and insofar as the foreign situation is concerned. He holds that bankers here would not be going abroad if the German situation were as hopeless as seems to be implied. At the same time, he thinks that the market is technically much stronger than it appears to the eye, with a very substantial short interest well scattered through the active list.

As a matter of fact, there is increasing evidence that the short interest in the market now is larger than it has been in some time. There was rather heavy covering a few weeks ago when the market was moving forward. This left many stocks in a vulnerable position for a scale demand was lacking when new selling broke out. With the first signs of a recessionary trend the traders were supplying the list and as the decline continued many outsiders who had become more active only a few weeks ago were putting out short lines. Thus any favorable development could start a good covering movement to aid the market in a recovery.

Conservative observers advise clients to secure long commitments during good rallies in strong issues. They favor purchasing on a scale down and the selection of the most favorable issues.

Union Pacific's other income has been materially reduced as a result of the reduction or omission of dividends by other carriers in recent weeks and months. The system is a large holder of some of the railroad stocks on which distributions are being curtailed or omitted. Naturally, the balance of earnings and income for the common stock will be substantially reduced this year and in 1932.

McKeesport Tin to Report Satisfactory Profit

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

MCKEESPORT TIN PLATE Company is operating at 50 per cent of capacity. Production has been at this rate since July when it became known that the packs of canned fruits and vegetables in 1931 would be smaller than those of the preceding year.

Net profit will reflect the decline in demand but it will not be far below the record established in 1930 when $2,502,897 or $8.35 a share was earned. This compared with $2,402,201 or $8.01 a share in 1929 and with $1,587,919 or $5.29 a share in 1928.

Following the decline in sales, directors decided to discontinue the payment of quarterly extra dividends of 50 cents a share. The regular quarterly dividends of $1 a share are being earned by a substantial margin. Net profit of $1,270,722 or $4.23 a share in the first half of the year more than covered a full year's regular dividends. Earnings for the year were only slightly less than in the corresponding period of 1930 when $1,513,850 or $5.04 a share was earned.

Record Outstanding

THE RESULTS OF THE PAST two years place the McKeesport Tin Plate Company in an outstanding position. Few other organizations have duplicated its performance in establishing a high record for earnings in 1930 and in showing only a moderate decline in the present year.

Several factors combined to make this showing possible. Food canners are the principal users of tin plate. The volume of their business is dependent more on the size of the available crops of fruits and vegetables than on general business conditions. It was not until recently that the depression exerted an important influence on tin plate. This influence took the form of unwillingness on the part of bankers to lend money to some of the canners.

With its volume at a fairly high rate, McKeesport Tin Plate has been benefitted by lower costs for its raw materials which consist of semi-finished steel and pig tin.

With the stock paying $4 a year and selling at about 50 McKeesport Tin is yielding 8 per cent. Average earnings for the three years ended with 1930 were $7.22 a share. The present price is 6.9 times this average. No close estimate of earnings for the present year is available beyond the semi-official statement that the decline will not be large. Even if profit for 1931 should be only $6 a share the stock would be selling for eight times this amount.

Hachmeister-Lind

IN AN ANALYSIS OF Hachmeister-Lind Company in this column on Saturday, net profit for 1931 was incorrectly estimated. The earnings for the year are expected to be about $270,000, which would be equivalent to approximately $1.69 a share on 82,289 shares of common stock after deducting dividends on the $6 preference stock. The figure given in the article was $180,000 which the company is expected to earn in the second half of the year.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS FIRM UNDERTONE

Occasional Flurries of Selling Easily Absorbed And List Works Higher

NEW YORK Nov 24 (AP)—The stock market easily absorbed occasional flurries of selling today and maintained a firm undertone. Bonds also displayed a better tone.

The share market was rather listless and traders were inclined to hold aloof. It was felt in some quarters that the list had become oversold and that a technical rally was due but the selling continued to drive issues to cover average.

Rails had further periods of weakness but the group as a whole was well supported. After a mid-morning dip the group list worked higher and by early afternoon gains of a point or more were registered by United States Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Eastman, American Smelting, American Power and Light, International Harvester, Southern Pacific, North American and National Biscuit. Public service of New Jersey advanced 2, New York and Harlem which is largely held by the New York Central appeared at a new low at 115¼. This stock sells as high as 505 in 1928. Pennsylvania lagged a point to a new low at 25.

Railroads were still the focal point of specialist attention. The low state of railroad equipment buying was mirrored in Baldwin Locomotive which is off 1 point to a new low at 5. Preferred issues of the weaker spots of the group showed a drop of 2 to 3 points.

Freight car loadings showed a drop of 26,000 cars from the preceding week. Loadings usually shrink substantially during the early weeks of November and a reduction of this magnitude would be only about half the drop of the like week of last year.

This appeared to be an official [illegible] in which complete cessation of operations was threatened.

Dividend reductions continue one of the chief obstacles in the stock market although most issues in which further cuts are expected are already selling at levels discounting the actual developments. A private tabulation recently made by an investment trust shows that 903 dividend payments have been omitted this year, 886 of which have been reduced. Corporate payments from last year of $1,236,233,000.

The money market was fairly easy with call loans hanging off call at 2 per cent. The weekly condition statement of reserve member banks showed a rise of $41,000,000 in excess reserves, bringing the total to $1,000,000,000. Treasury operations were [illegible] the week off $4,000,000 to $1,000,000 [illegible] in the bond list [illegible]

Forbes

Manufacturer Tells Why He Is Prospering

By B. C. FORBES

Mr. Forbes

When my associates and I took control 18 months ago, the company was in red ink, the stores and manufacturing plant were starving for business, everybody thought the end was in sight.

"Well, the first thing we did was to raise the salaries of all the key men and women. That added another $10,000 a week to the already large deficit. Then we deliberately reduced prices about 10 per cent.

"Had we been in the hands of bankers at that point, they would have closed us up sure as shooting.

"WE PROCEEDED to throw out of the window all substitutes, imitations, what-nots, the kind used by some candy manufacturers, soda fountains, lunch rooms and filling stations. We launched upon a policy of making only the very best products.

"Not only so, but we leaped right out into the limelight, bought all the back pages of the newspapers and began advertising on a scale that would make most department stores gasp.

"Did the public respond? Sales last year were about $9,000,000; this year they will be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000.

"WHAT'S THE CURE for this so-called depression? Advertising—provided you have something to sell. Most of the birds now complaining loudest haven't anything to sell to start with.

"Yes, we are strong for advertising—for very good reasons. Think what it has done for us. Although we have spent as much as $50,000 in a single month in newspaper advertising, we have brought in so much new business that our advertising cost to attract this increased business has been less than 75 per cent and our advertising cost on total sales has always been inside of 1½ per cent—a record we are not ashamed to shout to the world from the top of the Empire State Building.

"We attend to business and don't interest ourselves one iota in Wall street or any other kind of bankers. We don't owe 'em a nickel and never will, because we are going to keep the faith we promised ourselves never to mix politics with business.

"We are enthusiastic over our organization, and we face the future—as well as the present—with a smile."

PERHAPS IT was because I was evidently urged by a quartet of my young hopefuls that I visited the Loft candy plant in Long Island City.

The first impression which registered was its magnitude. The second and most important was its scrupulous cleanliness. The third was the amazing efficiency of the bewildering labyrinth of machinery.

The young tribe accompanying me very freely sampled the ingredients as well as the finished product, and they pronounced it good. For my part, I was struck by the pains taken to make certain that the materials were thoroughly tested before being manufactured.

Is it not refreshing to know, despite conditions, that some executives have demonstrated that it is possible to go vigorously and prosperously ahead?

FROM ANOTHER enterprise I have also obtained encouraging facts. President G. W. Mason of Kelsinator states that net earnings for the year ended September increased 10 per cent over last year, and 15 per cent over 1929.

Cash on hand has doubled in the last 12 months. Funded indebtedness has been reduced $1,850,000, with no bank indebtedness. Subsidiaries did equally well. Note this:

"In 1931, for the first time in our history, the fourth quarter of our fiscal year—July, August, September—produced a profit. Perhaps this was partly due to our spending fully $100,000 more this year than last year on research and engineering development, all charged to operating expense. We are looking forward to a continuation of growth in 1932."

UPSETS MARK LOCAL SOCCER WARFARE

By TOM BIRKS

It has been many years since local soccer watched so many upheavals. The dramatic withdrawal of the Pittsburgh Celtics from the National Cup tourney on the eve of their battle with the Morvo, coupled with the defeat of two leading senior clubs at the hands of junior teams in the national event, certainly have given soccerdom food for thought.

The case at Curry, where the Junior club, a good team as Juniors go, might have been overconfidence. The Curry senior aggregation compares favorably with any team in the district.

It can never be said, however, that the defeat of the German Sport Club by the Shannon Juniors was overconfidence. The Germans never had a chance and the Juniors tossed it in by scoring eight goals. The same thing might have happened at Morgan when Morgan trotted Cuddy. At half time the score was tied 1 to 1 in favor of the senior team and the fellow supporters started boasting. That settled that. Morgan got busy.

Tom Robinson, one of the best soccer supporters the game has known locally, has stepped into a bad situation and placed Harold Palmer in charge, and the Celts are to continue in the Central League competition.

BIG 10 TEAMS SELECTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)—Northwestern, hen apparent to the Big Ten football throne lately, landed three of the most famous stars of its great cast on the 1931 all-Western Conference team, as selected today for the Associated Press by coaches, officials and critics.

Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State ranked second in quantity and class by placing two players each on the honorary eleven, while the other two berths went to Purdue and Wisconsin, who were represented by two of the greatest linemen in their football history.

While the balloting was close for three positions, the others were romped by clear-cut margins. Leo Paul Brettner, Northwestern's great touchdown-maker, who was placed at left halfback; Clarence Munn, Minnesota's great guard, and Dallas Marvil, Northwestern's thunderbolt of the line, were unanimous choices.

The team as chosen represents one of the biggest and speediest in Big Ten football. The line averages 200 pounds in weight and six feet in height, while the backfield averages 182 pounds and stands 5 feet 10 inches.

The first and second teams:

FIRST TEAM			SECOND TEAM
Moss, Purdue	L	E	Robinson, Minnesota
Riley, Northwestern	L	T	Bell, Ohio State
Shaw, Minnesota	L	G	Zeller, Indiana
Morrison, Michigan	C		Miller, Purdue
Rebhan, Wisconsin	R	G	Evans, Northwestern
Marvil, Northwestern	R	T	Bedard, Minnesota
Williamson, Minnesota	R	E	Hewitt, Michigan
Cramer, Ohio State	Q		Newman, Michigan
Brettner, Northwestern	L	H	Fay, Michigan
Harrison, Ohio State	R	H	Hagen, Purdue
Manders, Minnesota	F		Olson, Northwestern

RELIEF TOURNEY PAIRINGS SET

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—Football fans may yet see a replay of that famous 33-33 tie to which Yale and Dartmouth battled earlier in the season.

Pairings for the charity roundrobin, to be played in the Yale Bowl December 5, put Yale against Holy Cross and Dartmouth against Brown in the two preliminary games, the winners to meet in the final. Thus a renewal of the Yale-Dartmouth feud depends upon what success the Elis and Indians have against Holy Cross and Brown.

The pairings for the preliminary games were made arbitrarily after the original plan of drawing by lot had been abandoned by mutual consent. Yale has not played Holy Cross nor has Dartmouth met Brown during the regular season.

The first game, decided by the toss of a coin, will begin at 1 o'clock and the second will follow immediately. After a 15-minute intermission the finalists will come out for battle.

All games will be 24 minutes, four played in 2-minute halves.

TIE TO BE REPLAYED

BALTIMORE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Baltimore City College and Poly-Tech, who met in a 7-7 tie last Saturday in their annual football clash, have decided to play the game over Saturday in the Stadium and turn the receipts into charity.

Lake, Former Big League Pilot, Dies

BOSTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Fred T. Lake, 66, one-time manager of the Boston Red Sox, the Boston Nationals, the St. Louis Nationals and the Lowell New England League baseball teams, died today of heart trouble at the New England Deaconess Hospital.

Before taking up managerial duties, Lake was a catcher and first baseman with the Boston Nationals. Later in his career he coached the baseball teams of Harvard and Tufts colleges.

Pleasure Valued Over Love, Romance by Laurel And Her Set

"I consider love's the bunk and romance 'out,'" Laurel told her mother

Synopsis

Laurel Oakes, 19, thoroughly "modern," finds that she will be alone at dinner. She flirts with Roger Sartoris, 29, blase, jaded young man who is infatuated with her. Imogene Gay invites Laurel to a "moonlight party." Laurel drives her roadster out to a deserted farm house where she finds many of her friends intoxicated, having a gay time. The party becomes rowdy and Imogene hits Laurel with a glass. Laurel runs from the house. Finding her tires slashed she runs down the road and is rescued by young Dr. Bruce Harvey, who knows her mother. He takes Laurel home.

Now Go On

As she moved the hat back from her brow there was a twinge of pain from the cut that was a couple of inches from her temple.

"Ouch!"

Would the darn thing bleed again?

And just then the bedroom door opened, and in came her mother.

"Good morning, dear. You look in the pink, as the English say. Did you go out last evening?"

"Yep."

"Where to? I got back late myself, so didn't look in your room. But I expect you'd been a long time sleeping."

"Probably, mum." Laurel avoided her mother's eyes. She became busy with her powder puff at the mirror. "Did you have a good time?"

"Mm. Yes. But I had bad luck at cards."

"Then you're lucky in love! You know that saying."

Her mother sat down on the edge of the bed and smiled at the speaker.

"You precocious child! Don't you think I'm long past anything of that sort?"

"No. According to what I read and hear, you're right at the fashionable age for an affaire," said Laurel saucily.

"Good heavens!" But Constance seemed pleased none the less. She said: "Then you don't think falling in love is the flapper's prerogative?"

Laurel swung round on her. Her heart was beating oddly.

What had happened to herself last night? Hadn't she been thinking continually of the good-looking young doctor? But because of the distance Connie had always maintained between them she could not confide now to her mother.

"You sweet thing for me I consider love's the bunk and romance 'out,'" she replied airily.

"A young girl like you? Why, Laurel!"

"Yep. No man'll ever take the starch out of my spine. . . . no man'll ever knock me into a cocked hat."

"What valiant child, throwing a date like that in the face of providence!"

"I'm not, Connie. I'm merely taking no risk."

"Stuff! If romance is taken out of the world, what have we got to live for?"

"Fun. High-speed. Thrills. Hundred per cent pleasure."

Her mother looked at her as though she were regarding some strange, queer specimen.

"Do you mean to say that you young girls have lost your belief in love?"

"Yep. I tell you we've debunked it. It's all bosh."

"That hateful slang! Your sentiments, or lack of them, are bad enough without draping them in such odd words, darling."

"But they convey the meaning, don't they? Don't weep salt tears over my high-priced but now forgotten education."

"That's the way Imogen talks. And that reminds me," said her mother. "I've been hearing rather queer tales about Imogen lately."

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Last Saturday morning, if you remember, was dark and dreary, fair to, at intervals. The weather was unquestionably "mad." But in spite of it, the attendance at every Warner Theater Sun-Telegraph Junior Komic Club Chapter was larger than it was the previous Saturday.

The reason for this is that the children who have joined the club have learned that they are never disappointed when they go to a meeting. There is sure to be a good time, plus contests, prizes and entertainment in addition to the regular program scheduled for the theater on the day of the meeting.

The fact that the attendance at the chapter meetings is increasing and that the membership is changed every week, due to the fact that it is impossible for all to attend every week, takes an added interest in the meetings. Those who are not members dance and sing and enjoy themselves as much as the rest of the members, and every boy and girl who becomes a member is sure to have a share of his or her friends.

PARADE PICTURES

The big drawing card of children from the vicinities of the Warner Theaters of Sun-Telegraph Junior Komic Club who attended the first meeting and show at the Stanley Theater on November 15 will see themselves in person, parading at their neighborhood theater.

The picture taken along the line of march from the Sun-Telegraph to the Stanley Theater are being shown scenes at the Enright, Regent, Squirrel Hill, Homewood, Kenmawr and Rex theaters.

Tomorrow, Thursday and Friday they will be shown on the screen at the Hazelwood, Fulton, Kenyon, Manor, Oliver and South Hills Theaters.

Monday and Tuesday of next week the parade pictures will be on view at the Belmar and Arsenal. See yourself in the movies!

SOUTH HILLS ORCHESTRA

The South Hills Chapter of the Warner Theaters-Sun-Telegraph Junior Komic Club introduced a Girl Scout orchestra at the meeting Saturday. The girls played extremely well and made a great hit. There were other stage acts, prizes and lots of fun.

ENRIGHT CHAPTER

Among the most interested spectators at the Enright Chapter meetings are the 45 boys and girls from the Industrial Home for Crippled Children.

PARENTS AT MEETINGS

Parents of the members are attending the meetings in order to become each week. The [illegible] about the club from the [illegible] and are making [illegible] from them. Why not bring mother and dad with you next Saturday?

A Real Christmas Gift

First National Deserves Thanks of City for Aiding Depositors of Closed Bank.

The First National Bank has given this city a Christmas gift of the greatest value by making it possible for depositors in the closed Bank of Pittsburgh to get half their money by December 1st. The First National will take over $14,000,000 of the assets of the Bank of Pittsburgh and will open accounts totaling an equal amount for the 17,000 depositors. This will materially shorten the time required to make the first payment.

The procedure is more satisfactory than the original plan for Clearing House banks to make loans against certificates of deposit, since there will be no expense to the depositors of the Bank of Pittsburgh.

The action taken by the First National becomes particularly commendable when it is realized that it is making no profit from the transaction. The money to be placed in the 17,000 new accounts will be exactly equal to the amount of the assets received. As the value of the remaining assets is determined, the accounts will be credited with additional funds.

The only gain to the First National Bank will be the well deserved good will of the citizens and the possibility that some of the depositors of the Bank of Pittsburgh may retain their new banking connection after the liquidation of the closed bank is completed.

The steps taken to release these deposits call attention to the fact that other bankers can perform a valuable service by giving similar assistance to the remaining institutions which were unable to stand the strains of the past few months. Many of these banks present simpler problems than the Bank of Pittsburgh, since their closing was due to lack of confidence rather than to the mistakes of management.

Bonds for Waterways

Rivers Could Be Quickly Improved and Canals Constructed Under $5,000,000,000 Plan.

Pittsburgh city officials and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are attending the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Association in St. Louis. They are asking the association to approve the plan for a canal to connect the Ohio River with Lake Erie by way of the Beaver and Mahoning Rivers.

Pittsburgh has been trying for many years to get the canal. Even if it should eventually be successful in inducing the Federal Government to take up the project, many more years might elapse before the canal was built.

It took nearly half a century after the Government was committed to the project to get the Ohio River improved all the way to the Mississippi.

There is a way by which this long delay might be avoided, and that is by issuing bonds to pay for the whole job at the outset instead of asking Congress to make appropriations for piecemeal work.

A Federal bond issue to pay for waterway improvements was proposed at the opening session of the Mississippi Valley Association.

The advocates of river improvements and the Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal should support the proposal of William Randolph Hearst that the Government issue $5,000,000,000 of bonds to finance public works on which jobs could be found for the unemployed.

Under this plan two birds could be killed with one stone.

Blue Law Suspension

Pennsylvania's Experience With Sunday Movies Should Have Wholesome Effect.

Shows were given by moving picture theaters in Pittsburgh and many other cities and boroughs of Pennsylvania on Sunday.

The performances were for the benefit of the unemployed. There was no ulterior motive.

While recognizing that the proceeds from the shows were to be applied to a praiseworthy use, certain advocates of strict Sabbath observance protested against the suspension of the Blue Law of 1794 on the ground that it would set a precedent.

There is no dodging the fact that the opening of the movies on Sunday DID set a precedent, and we hope the Legislature will consider it when the question of repealing the Blue Law comes up again.

Hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians attended these Sunday movies, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that they or anybody else suffered any harm from it. On the contrary it made Sunday a brighter, pleasanter day for them.

The public should be permitted to attend movies and other kinds of innocent entertainment every Sunday.

But Oh the Publicity!

Prize Awards, No Matter How Execrable, Help to Advertise Carnegie Institute International.

Murdock Pemberton, latest of a series of art critics who have come here to lecture on the international exhibition of paintings at Carnegie Institute, deprecates the awarding of prizes for the best pictures at the show.

Since a number of the prizes in recent years have gone to pictures that the general public considered ugly daubs, it must be confessed that confidence in the ability of Homer Saint Gaudens' hand-picked juries of artists to choose the most meritorious paintings has been sadly shaken.

But think of the publicity value of the prize awards! They give the exhibition advertising that it could not easily get in any other way.

The more execrable the awards the more the exhibition is talked about!

Outrageous Punishment

Penalties Inflicted for Violation of Game and Fish Laws Are Often Too Harsh.

The District Attorney of a nearby county was quoted recently to the effect that so long as hard times continued he would not prosecute any poor man for violating the fish and game laws.

The Sun-Telegraph condemned the remark as ill-advised and calculated to bring about slaughter of deer out of season.

From Bellefonte comes a news item of diametrically opposite character. There a man has been committed to jail for 504 days by a justice of the peace in lieu of a fine of $500 and costs for attempting to kill deer at night with artificial light.

This outrageous punishment is not extraordinary. It is no uncommon thing for poor people unable to pay fines to be sent to jail for a year or more for violating the fish and game laws.

These penalties are reminiscent of the Middle Ages when to poach on the estates of the nobility was one of the most serious of offenses.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Out of the welter of lightning changes to a world of convulsion the most impressive thing to me is the utter complacency of those one never imagined could take it on the chin without shivering. It is a homicide to say stern stuff oozed out of the upheaval but all truths are trite.

Came a note this morning typical of the times which said in part: "You will not believe this but after years of earning $500 a week at least I am happy on an income that has not topped $25. Furthermore I sleep nights and do not jump out of my skin when the phone rings."

Recently at a theater I met a man in the lobby after the show. I remarked I did not see him in the audience. "I was there," he said, "but in the last row of the balcony and I enjoyed it as much as I ever did in the first two or three rows downstairs."

Whether true or not he was not whining or trying to hide his status. For years he has been a fairly consistent first-nighter always well down front in spruce evening clothes. Then there is the lady who recently did extra typing for me.

I visited her because her sign beckoned in my immediate neighborhood—Public Stenographer. Handing me the work she inquired: "Is it possible you do not remember me?" Despite a greatly changed appearance which included snow white hair I looked closely and in a flash recalled her.

Four years ago she lived two floors below me in a New York hotel. Hers was one of those stenographic romances with a rich employer. They entertained lavishly and frequently I saw her bowling up with a standing flourish to the hotel's marquee in various and costly limousines.

Her husband, a victim of market gambling, leaned out his high office window one tragic morning a year ago and let go. I could only murmur a slightly embarrassed sympathy. "It is not likely," she said, "you will understand, but I am happier than I've been for years."

With few exceptions every club evaporate and not so snooty in town has cut rates for rooms and many have shaved their membership fees. Another break for the clubman is the delay in posting names for non-payment of dues. Some postpone this humiliation for two months and any number have abolished the custom until there is a new sun in the sky. The two leading theatrical clubs are fighting valiantly to stave off bankruptcy.

* * *

Oddly, the most reasonably priced room rate is that of the Metropolitan—the "Millionaire's Club" with its patina of pomp and luxury-dripping heaviness. It was scaled low at the opening and never changed. Membership is $1,000 a year.

If I were a "miner" and s'help me I'll never be my choice of purely social clubs would be The Players, occupying the old Edwin Booth home on the southerly side of Gramercy. It has a Quakerish thee mellowness. One thinks of a high-backed Jacobean chair, a crackling log fire, a long-stemmed meerschaum and a world shut out. Despite its quiet dignity the ancient rafters shiver now and then from the combustion generated by the Elizabethan jocularity of Oliver Herford.

* * *

Few visiting Englishmen had so many friends as the late Sir Thomas Lipton. They were discussing him the other midnight in a crepuscular corner of a penthouse. "It was his one regret," said one admirer, "that he had never married." Silence. And up piped John Golden in person. "The first thing a wife would have done would be to snatch that cap from him."

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Should the Missis work?

Not a new question, that. It has been raising Cain in America for the last 20 years. Lately the rumpus broke out afresh. Somebody discovered that many of our Congressmen and Senators were keeping the home fires burning brighter by putting the Little Woman on the official Expense Account. Thus keeping Uncle Sam's bonus all in the family—but also keeping some regular stenog out of a job.

Whereupon investigations sprang up like an epidemic of pink-eye. Big industries began discharging married women workers. Hospitals weeded out their staffs. Then someone rushed into this column and hailed Teacher before the bar.

"Why," demanded Ellen Tree indignantly, "should teachers be allowed to retain their jobs after they marry, when there are tens of thousands of unemployed single teachers? Most teachers when they do marry find husbands of comfortable means. Yet they are so greedy for money that both husband and wife go on working—and the wife also teaches in night school as well as day school. Won't you print this and show them up?"

Being old and wise and fond of our health, we refused to take sides. But we printed Ellen's complaint. And are still trying to dig our way from under the answers! Hundreds then more hundreds, most of them voicing that well-known theme song:

"THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW AGIN IT."

Here's a typical one:

"Should a married woman work? Emphatically no! Unless stark necessity compels. This recent rush of women into the working world has resulted in an utter upheaval of the natural social order. Men were meant to work and support their families. Any decent man desires to do so. IT DESTROYS A MAN'S CHARACTER TO ACCEPT HELP FROM HIS WIFE UNLESS SICKNESS OR UTTER POVERTY COMPEL HIM TO DO SO, AND IT DESTROYS A WIFE'S RESPECT FOR THE HUSBAND."

It would be a fine thing for our country if all the women who are working for luxuries whether they are married or single, were forced to relinquish their jobs to those who need their wages for the necessities of life. What if wives must wear plainer clothes or go without a car, in order to live within their husband's means? The greatest good for the greatest number" is civilization's bedrock.

"As for those women who want careers: HOME MAKING IS A FULL TIME CAREER FOR ANY WOMAN. Women have been awful slackers where their real jobs are concerned. It's a hard, lonesome job to be a good wife and mother, and many a search for a career is merely an effort to escape boredom.

"MRS. EDWARD DORSEY,
"3110 Kingsbridge Terrace,
"New York City."

But not all would oust the married woman worker. Miss Frances Larson, of 79 Hoyt's Hill, Bethel, Conn., an unmarried unemployed teacher, takes the stand for her married sisters.

"Our public schools," says she, "should not be regarded as mere industries, which gives employment to so many workers. Their mission is to inculcate in children certain social attitudes, habits and knowledge, which will make for intelligent citizenship. For such work the finest quality of character is needed in the teacher. Teachers should be selected accordingly. No one can deny that the married woman knows more of life than the single woman, and has a broader viewpoint and a more matured character. Therefore, very often marriage is a distinct asset in a teacher, and should commend her rather than disbar her.

"Nor do I think that marriage should be regarded as a bar to any work. Her marriage is a woman's personal problem, and has nothing to do with her right to work. MANY A WOMAN CANNOT ACCEPT SUPPORT FROM HER HUSBAND AND KEEP HER SELFRESPECT, EVEN THOUGH SHE LOVES HIM. Why should anyone question her right to support herself if she wishes?"

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Lovers—And Others

You can usually spot a married man at this time of year, by that haunting fragrance of moth-balls and tar-bags which envelopes him like an aura.

* * *

The modern woman is ageless because, in these days, no woman is too young for a job or too old for a love-affair, and as long as she has these two, she will never petrify.

A woman buries her dead love as a dog does a bone, where she can go back and dig it up occasionally, but a man simply cremates his and uses the embers to start a new flame.

* * *

Odd how quickly a man loses all his carefree gallantry to women and becomes cautious the moment his wife loosens the bonds and puts him back into circulation.

* * *

There are times when a man doesn't know which irritates him more, to feel that a woman has a "claim" on him—or to feel that she doesn't want any.

* * *

There is nothing that so affectively awakens a woman's emotions as a tender kiss—and nothing that deadens them so quickly as a "dutiful" kiss.

After a bitter parting, there may be some hope of a reconciliation—but when a man and woman "part amicably," love is beyond the help of a pulmotor.

* * *

When a man reaches the point where he can no longer fall in love or even skid into a mild spring romance, he is on his way to the wheel-chair—and no doctor and no serums can bring back that schoolboy enthusiasm.

* * *

Up to the age of 25, the average man's love of pursuit is greater than his love of any WOMAN.

* * *

A woman's love sometimes begins in pity—but that's where a man's love usually ends.

Isn't It So?

Courtesy is one of the cheapest of virtues, costing even less than rudeness.

It rains upon the just as well as the unjust, but when it does the unjust swipe umbrellas.

When the next generation speaks of a week-end it may refer to a holiday of three, or even four days.

Democrat Two-Thirds Rule 'Unfair'

By Claude G. Bowers

As surely as the time for the Democratic national conventions roll around the perennial problem of the two-thirds rule bobs up to disturb the serenity of the faithful. There was never any possible justification for such a rule under any possible interpretation of democracy. The clever, uncannily clever politicians who surrounded Andrew Jackson had their reasons for insisting on the adoption of the rule; and these reasons related to party conditions at that particular moment and had nothing whatever to do with party principles.

There was no suggestion of a two-thirds rule for the adoption of a platform. As the time approached for the convention of 1832 there was no possible doubt as to the nomination of Jackson for a second term. His popularity with the people was unprecedented. But the administration forces had their favorite for the second place on the ticket and made no secret of their choice of Van Buren.

There were severe strictures on the administration's exertion of pressure to determine the vice presidential nomination and the claim was made that the utmost exertions of the President would be necessary to force the nomination of his favorite. It was a magnificent gesture of the Jacksonians to say: "Very well, no one shall be nominated by a mere majority; two-thirds will be required."

And so it was.

* * *

Under the Majority Rule

The irony of it all came home to Van Buren in the convention of 1844 when on the first ballot he received the majority of all the votes cast for the presidential nomination. He had 13 votes to spare under the majority rule but he lacked 32 votes under the two-thirds rule, and thus, through the two-thirds rule, the minority was able to thwart the will of the majority.

It is possible that the war between the states would never have been fought but for the two-thirds rule of the Democratic convention in 1860. Whether the election of Douglass would have prevented the war, as many believe, or not, the prolonged and bitter struggle in the Charleston convention which adjourned without making a nomination, intensified the sectional animosities.

Under the majority rule Douglas would have been nominated on the first ballot when he received 145 of the 252 votes, and he held his majority through 57 ballots. He rose to 151, but even that left him 17 short of the two-thirds. The highest vote polled for any other candidate during these 57 ballots was 66.

* * *

This Is the Record

Except when the party fight has been bitter, no candidate attaining a majority on any ballot has failed to receive the nomination. Van Buren in 1844, Douglas in the first convention of 1860, Champ Clark in 1912—this is the record. There is so little of real democracy in the two-thirds rule that the conventions normally have acted on the tacit understanding that any one receiving a majority of the vote cast shall have the nomination.

Principle is not on the side of the two-third rule, only the strategy of allied minorities. And always it has made for contentions that have contributed nothing to the prospects of the party at the polls. These bitter contentions began with the very proposal in the convention of 1832, for the fight on the adoption was waged with bitterness for a full day and a half.

* * *

Nothing Is Done

Year after year, after conventions have adjourned, we have heard the proposal to abrogate this undemocratic rule, and then, silence; silence until another convention is approaching. In 1904 we were almost rid of the rule. After the nomination of Parker he sent the "gold telegram" which threatened momentarily to throw the tumultuous convention into a riot, and Champ Clark, presiding and noting the danger, adjourned the convention until a later hour without a motion or a vote. Soon a delegation from Kentucky entered his room, determined to recall the nomination of Parker.

"How many votes will you rule is necessary to withdraw the nomination?" he was asked.

"I would rule that the nomination having been given on a two-thirds vote, it will require a two-thirds vote to take it away."

"How many votes would you rule are necessary to abrogate the two-thirds rule?"

"The two-thirds rule having been adopted by a majority vote, I would rule that a majority vote can abrogate."

But more conservative counsels prevailed and nothing was done.

* * *

Jefferson and the Two-thirds Rule

We have always opposed the two-thirds rule on principle. It is impossible to reconcile it with democracy, the rule of the majority. Jefferson was one of the most voluminous writers of all time, and one may search in vain through all he wrote for a justification of any two-thirds rule. But his insistence on the rule of the majority thickly sprinkles his pages.

In his first inaugural address he said:

"Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principle of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and the immediate part of despotism."

In a letter to Madison, he wrote: "It is my principle that the will of the majority should always prevail."

And in his first inaugural he reiterated and amplified:

"All will bear in mind this sacred principle that though the will of the majority is in all cases to prevail, that will, to be rightful, must be reasonable; that the minority possess their equal rights, which equal laws must protect."

The equal rights of a minority in a convention are these:

The right to present and urge the nomination of any man it will.

The right to a thorough and respectful hearing and serious, thoughtful consideration.

The right to a fair vote to determine the will of the convention.

But no, the right to thwart the will of the majority when once disclosed.

* * *

Wrong in Principle

The two-thirds rule has been a source of trouble to the Democrats for a hundred years. It remains the rule because when the matter of its abrogation is brought up partisans of candidates think in terms of individual ambitions and prospects and not of principle. It was wrong in its origin; it has been destructive at times in operation; it is wrong in principle.

It is an astonishing thing that the party of Hamilton applies to its conventions the rule of the majority, while the party of Jefferson clings to a rule through which the will of the majority may be set aside.

At this moment there has been no formal announcement of a presidential candidacy. Soon the aspirants will be announced. They will have six months, or all of them will have at least four months, to present their cases to the rank and file of the party. Every one will be entitled to a hearing; and on these hearings decisions will be made, and the majority must be permitted to determine the event.
